INDIA CITY PREPARED TO HAVE REVENUE REVEALED

India Banks Barred From Handling Nationalists' Funds Finance Chairman Plans Salary Reductions As First Step To Economy

Government Orders Banks to Pay Out No Money Which is Part of Nationalists' Fund; Among Disobedience Campaign Events is One Involving Squatting of Throng in City's Main Street.

Canadian Press and Associated Press Dispatches

Bombay, India, Jan. 6.—The government delivered another crippling blow at the All-India Nationalist Congress party today by tying up its treasury, amounting to something less than $15,000.

Police ordered the banks today to issue no money against this account.

The Congress funds had been transferred to the accounts of individual members in banks.

Other dispatches said Nationalist leaders had been arrested by the police in India to-day as the campaign of civil disobedience gained headway and the boycott of British goods began.

Mill owners in Calcutta were asked by the Congress committee to cancel orders for $1,500,000 worth of British machinery, but reports received in London said the Nationalist boycott had not brought an enthusiastic response.

POLICE FIRE INTO CROWD
Benares, India, Jan. 6.—One man was killed when police fired fourteen rounds into a crowd which had gathered here to-day in defiance of orders and refused to disperse. The police said the mob stoned them and refused to break when it was charged with staves, after which the officers fired.

TRAFFIC DETOURED
Jubbulpore, India, Jan. 6.—A trial of patience was in progress here today between members of the Nationalist Congress and police. Because the police had banned a parade, Congress workers and their sympathizers were squatting in the middle of the main street, which they refused to leave.

They were being watched by details of police and the local magistrate, the watchers being relieved every few hours.

MANY IN CUSTODY
Bombay, Jan. 6.—Practically all prominent members of the Nationalist Congress, including several women, were under arrest to-day.

The arrest of the leaders was followed by an announcement in the Bombay Government Gazette that the Congress itself and more than eighty allied organizations throughout the city and suburbs were declared unlawful associations.

The Prabhat Press, a small association whose members assembled each day at dawn to sing national songs in the streets, also was banned. All buildings which formerly housed the associations are now occupied by police and the city is completely quiet.

While these developments were occurring Gandhi was peacefully spinning in the prison at Yeroda. He still is treated as a privileged prisoner and has the run of several cells usually reserved for Europeans. These are furnished with tables, chairs and beds, but these accessories are wasted on the Mahatma, because he sits and sleeps on the floor.

SHOPS PICKETED
Women Nationalists are picketing shops throughout the country and are urging prospective customers not to buy British made goods.

Among the women arrested was Mrs. Kamaladevi Chattopadhyaya, sister-in-law of Mrs. Sarojini Naidu and leader of the Women's Volunteer Organization. She, with the other women, was sent to the house of correction to await trial.

Publicity Drive For Victoria In Hawaiian Islands

Through the co-operation of H. W. Brodie, overseas manager of the C.P.R. and the travel bureau of The H. Davies and Company, in Honolulu, the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau has opened an extensive campaign aimed to increase tourism travel between the Hawaiian Islands and this city.

The C.P.R., with its direct steamship line between the two points, has spent considerable time and money in fostering travel to Vancouver Island from the well-known mid-Pacific resort.

During his recent trip to eastern Canada, George I. Warren, publicity commissioner, conferred with Mr. Brodie with a view to securing the co-operation of his company in sending out publicity matter. Now much Victoria literature has been sent to Honolulu and direct mail appeals are being carried out by the local organization. The bureau of The H. Davies and Company in Honolulu are also assisting in the distribution of publicity matter and are displaying Victoria photographs.

STEADY RUN OF BUSINESS OVER LIQUOR COUNTER

Expenditures Run to Million and Half in British Columbia Each Month

Total For Year Expected to Reach Pretty Close to $20,000,000

Circulation of money at the rate of nearly $1,500,000 a month in British Columbia through liquor stores and beer parlors is being drawn attention to, with the release of latest figures of the British Columbia Liquor Control Board, as a striking indication of liberal spending in some channels despite talk of restricted business and hard times.

While the figures show a small drop over those of the previous year, it is estimated when the fiscal year is completed the round figures of $20,000,000 a year spent on beer and liquor in British Columbia will be approached. Although the expenditure of roughly $6,650,000 for the six months ending September, 1931, showed a 17 per cent decrease below the previous year, the 1930 total showed an increase as the 17 per cent decrease does not represent that percentage of a drop below the average sales of the board.

Latest figures pointedly prove there is plenty of money available for the products of the Liquor Board. Profits made by the board in the six months period for which records are completed, are estimated at $1,655,436 after the payment of salaries and all expenses connected with distribution. To net this profit it is estimated the sum of $6,621,744 was paid into the Liquor board coffers in six months.

On top of this, to figure the total expenditure in British Columbia on wines, liquor and beer, must be added the beer parlor profits. Beer to the value of roughly $2,500,000 is sold to beer parlor proprietors who, in return, sell the beer at a profit of probably 50 per cent or more.

Detroit Lacks Money To Meet Its Payroll

Associated Press
Detroit, Jan. 6.—City officials of Detroit are worrying about the payroll for the first time in years.

According to Controller G. Hall Roosevelt, there is not money enough available to meet the $1,500,000 that will be due employees between now and January 15. He says a proposed scrip payment would be "the worst thing the city could do."

Mr. Roosevelt is urging speedy action by the council on Mayor Frank Murphy's proposal to reduce salaries from 10 to 17 per cent. The reductions would place the city in a financial position to meet current expenses, he calculates.

Year-end tax receipts were far below normal and some $3,000,000 under last year's payments.

NEW AUSTRALIAN MINISTRY IS FOR EMPIRE TRADE AGREEMENTS

Canadian Press Cable via Reuter's
Canberra, Australia, Jan. 6.—Through the medium of talking pictures Premier Joseph Lyons to-day declared the new Australian Government would stand for the fullest measure of preferential trade with Great Britain and the sister dominions. The government would earnestly strive to make a success of the forthcoming Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa, he said.

Mr. Lyons then introduced the members of the new United Party cabinet before the cameras. The occasion was the formal gathering of the cabinet to take office.

Handling over the reins of government to Mr. Lyons, Rt. Hon. James Scullin, Prime Minister from 1929 until the defeat of the Labor Party in the general election two weeks ago, made this characteristic comment: "I hope you will be able to do something worth while for Australia."

Finance Policy Bringing Tolmie Government To Defeat, States Pattullo

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Jan. 6.—Asserting its financial policy would precipitate the early downfall of the present provincial government, T. D. Pattullo, British Columbia Liberal leader, addressing a meeting of the Progressive Liberal Association here yesterday evening, prophesied victory for the Liberal party at the next election.

Referring to by-election results, Mr. Pattullo said that should occasion arise for another by-election, he would call for a general election.

Rising River Breaks Levees in South U.S.

Associated Press
Glendora, Miss., Jan. 6.—Worried flood fighters to-day abandoned Glendora's levee to the hammering of the roaring Tallahatchie River, after exhausting efforts at reinforcement against the rising tide of water.

All yesterday evening water coursed through breaks at Albin and farther south at the Marcel levee, near Charleston, spreading over many acres of land. The situation around Phillips, now facing the triple burden of waters from Tallahatchie, Paducah and Quittman counties, gave the flood fighters grave concern. Levees there have been pounded for days and the water is rising rapidly toward the crest.

Crack-up of Twelfth, Matthew Bayou and Grassy Lake levees would prove a hazard this town of 200 inhabitants in the southern tip of the flood area could not hope to withstand.

TO ASK JAPAN TO STATE PLANS IN MANCHURIA

British, U.S. and French Governments Discussing Possible New Move

Tokio Soon May Be Requested to State Exactly What It Wants

Canadian Press and Associated Press Dispatches

Paris, Jan. 6.—France is carrying on conversations with Great Britain and the United States with a view to taking further common action in Manchuria, it was revealed to-day in official circles.

The proposal under discussion, it was said, is to ask Japan to define just what she wants in Manchuria.

No steps in this direction have been taken and there has been no decision to act, the reports said.

Washington, Jan. 6.—It was indicated in highly authoritative circles here to-day an important statement of United States policy toward the Far East might be made shortly by Secretary Stimson.

The discussions between the Secretary and the British and French ambassadors regarding further joint action in the Far Eastern situation were linked by officials in predicting a statement on the general situation.

Secretary Stimson declined to comment on the visit of the ambassadors TOWARD CHINA

The State Department has received official dispatches indicating a Japanese campaign beyond Chinchow toward China proper and such action is looked on with concern.

How definite or severe further joint action by Great Britain, the United States and France in the Far Eastern situation would be was not indicated. Secretary Stimson said he considered the Japanese expression of regret to be tantamount to an apology by Japan for the attack made by three Japanese on United States Consul Cullen B. Chamberlain at Mukden.

PREMIERS AT CONFERENCE IN CALGARY

Saskatchewan and Alberta Leaders Have Talk With Federal Prime Minister

Calgary, Jan. 6.—Financial and unemployment questions were the subjects of a discussion here this afternoon between the Prime Minister of Canada and Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta and Premier J. T. M. Anderson of Saskatchewan. Premier Bennett of the Dominion Government, during the present financial crisis, Mr. Brownlee took the opportunity of meeting him.

Premier Anderson arrived in Calgary early this morning, with the Alberta Premier arriving at noon.

The mayors of four Alberta cities were on hand to attempt to secure aid from the Dominion Government during the present financial crisis. Mayor Andy Davison of Calgary, Mayor D. K. Knott of Edmonton, Mayor Robert Brown of Lethbridge and Mayor Isaac Bullock of Medicine Hat conferred before the meeting.

Premier Anderson, after his discussion of Saskatchewan's affairs with Premier Bennett, was scheduled to leave for Regina late this afternoon.

REVENUE PLANS
Premier Anderson told the press he had nothing to announce regarding the conference in Edmonton, where he met Premier Brownlee and Hon. W. J. Major, K.C., Attorney-General of Manitoba.

"We reached certain conclusions in our discussions of ways and means of effecting economies and raising additional revenues for the respective provinces," he said. "I have nothing to announce. We have yet to submit our ideas in recommendation form to our legislatures."

All Dollars Look Alike In San Francisco

"San Francisco welcomes Canadian dollars at their face value," stated A. T. Goward, vice-president of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company Limited, upon his return this morning from a business visit to California.

"Many of the hotels, stores and business firms accept Canadian money at par in payment for purchases of services," he remarked.

Business conditions were not as depressed in California as reports had indicated, Mr. Goward commented, with the reservation that his visit had been at Christmastide, when seasonal trade was stimulating conditions.

Mr. Goward was a day in Seattle on his return journey and was assured by many merchants that they were regularly accepting Canadian currency at its face value.

POLICE STATE FUGITIVES MAY HAVE USED BOAT

Search For W. Bagley and Two Others Who Escaped From Oakalla Jail Fruitless

Commissioner of B.C. Police Takes Up Investigation at Prison

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Jan. 6.—After another day, night and forenoon of false clues and unwarranted searches police of the lower mainland this afternoon were apparently as far from the escapee as to the whereabouts of William Bagley, Gordon Fawcett and Frank Sarge, three of five prisoners who escaped from the Oakalla jail Sunday evening.

What may confirm an early and plausible theory that Bagley and his pals escaped by water was uncovered by New Westminster police after a check of boat owners along the Fraser. They found that two power boats had been stolen within the last week, one of them a twenty-footer. In view of the fact that Bagley may have had efficient outside help in his break for liberty, it is quite possible his friends stole a boat and picked him up along the river. The car stolen from near Oakalla on the evening of the escape was found near the Fraser waterfront.

WHITE ROCK REPORT
The story from Bellingham, Wash., of an alleged attack on a man in a summer cottage at White Rock, B.C., by two men who were born out by police investigation in that district. Police officers to-day declared they knew nothing of such a happening.

The story was that a man had entered the house to investigate and was slugged by two men who had taken refuge in the attic. A small boy was said to have seen the men flee from the cottage.

JUDGE TO RESIGN TO SEEK POST OF MONTREAL MAYOR

Montreal, Jan. 6.—Judge A. Monet will resign from the bench of the court of sessions to offer himself as candidate for the post of mayor of Montreal in the April election, according to a statement made by him to the press.

Judge Monet said that "unless something uncontrollable should happen, he would be a candidate and that he planned to start his campaign February 8."

U.S. Balance Of Trade Favorable
Washington, Jan. 6.—Foreign trade of the United States in November resulted in a favorable trade balance of $93,835,630. Exports during the month totaled $193,553,921 and imports $149,718,291.

The United Kingdom maintained its position as this country's best customer, with purchases valued at $46,280,978 during the month, as compared with $41,690,832 for the preceding year. Canada was the principal supplier of this country's needs during the month, shipping merchandise with a value of $20,463,937.

TEN ARRESTED IN VANCOUVER; TWO WOUNDED

Police Believe They Will Be Able to Explain Number of Burglaries

One Man Shot in Leg By Constable; Another Shot in Body

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Jan. 6.—Two men accused of burglary were wounded by Vancouver police bullets on city streets early this morning and eight other suspects were captured. The two injured men are in the General Hospital for treatment before being removed to the city jail.

The shooting started shortly after 3 o'clock when Constable F. H. Prudhomme saw two men leaving the premises of a business at 144 St. James Street. He grappled with them, but one broke away just as Constable E. Pearce appeared on the scene.

Constable Pearce opened fire on the fleeing man and brought him down with a wound in the leg. The man gave his name as George Thompson, alias Johnston. He was removed to the hospital.

R. J. Scott, the man Constable Prudhomme captured, was removed to the city jail, where he was charged with breaking and entering. A number of tools the men were carrying were recovered, the police state.

SEVEN ARRESTED
The arrest of officers to search a suite on Comox Street occupied by the two men. There Detectives H. H. Dugan and W. G. Thompson discovered seven other men, whom they took into custody to-day on charges of vagrancy. Most of the men, it is stated, had city relief tickets.

SUPPORTS B.C. DAIRY METHODS

Eastern Provinces' Failure to Test Dairy Cattle Scored By Dominion Commissioner

Canadian Press
Kingston, Ont., Jan. 6.—Failure of Canada to keep up with New Zealand and Denmark in improving its dairy herds was impressed on the Dairy men's Association of Eastern Ontario at its annual convention here to-day by Dr. J. A. Ruddick, Dominion Dairy Commissioner.

Dr. Ruddick said it was probably the last occasion he would have the privilege of speaking to the association as Dominion Dairy Commissioner, "for the reason that I shall reach the retiring age before another convention comes around."

Although the speaker did not make the definite statement, it has been learned from the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa that Ontario and Quebec are both doing very little in the matter of testing dairy cattle for tuberculosis.

Federal Minister Of Labor To Visit The West Indies

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—Senator G. D. Roberson, Minister of Labor, will sail from Boston, Mass., January 15 for the West Indies. He expects to be south about a month, recuperating from a severe illness.

Two Dominion Civil Servants New Members Of Ottawa Board Of Control

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 6.—The Ottawa Evening Citizen says there are "strong indications" Daniel McCann and Fulgence Charpentier, successful candidates at the recent municipal election for the board of control, may be permitted to continue their positions in the Dominion civil service while serving on the Ottawa board of control this year.

Both are civil servants in the Department of the Secretary of State, and it had been suggested they should take a year's leave of absence from Hon. C. H. Cahan's department without pay, while they served on the board of control.

The Citizen says that if the controllers are permitted to carry the two positions it will be for this year only, and that no such arrangement could be continued next year. It also states final action cannot be taken until Premier Bennett returns from Calgary, when the matter will be considered by the cabinet.

Aldermen Would Lose Fifth of Their Indemnities in Resolutions to be Placed Before City Council Monday; Whole of Civic Service Would Get Ten Per Cent Reduction; School Board and Police Commission Asked to Co-operate.

The decision to submit the motions came after a two-hour conference this morning between Mayor Leeming, Ald. Brown, Ald. T. W. C. Hawkins and heads of civic departments. The department heads were called in to present facts to the members of the council.

$50,000 SAVING
Civic employees' salaries will be sliced 10 per cent and aldermanic indemnities 20 per cent if the resolutions are adopted. It would mean a saving of approximately $50,000 on the budget.

The resolutions are:
That the aldermen's indemnities (if any) be reduced by 20 per cent of the amount set by the 1931 council.
That the salaries of all employees under the control of the Victoria City Council be reduced by 10 per cent as from March 1, 1932.

The second motion has reference to the inside and outside staffs of the City Hall and the fire department.

OTHERS ASKED
In addition the school board and the Board of Police Commissioners will be requested to consider similar action in respect of the staffs under their control.

"In submitting these resolutions for the council's consideration I do so realizing the necessity for retrenchment and of reducing the cost of government to the taxpayers," said Mayor Leeming.

Alderman Brown explained that he had written to the school board and police commission, whose expenditures are not controlled by the council, requesting that they take steps along similar lines and suggested the school board reconsider the necessity of its branches of study which are not directly provided for in the curriculum or submitting the same to the ratepayers for their approval.

TIME WOULD BE GIVEN
"If adopted, the cuts would not take effect until March 1 next in order to give any employee an opportunity of bettering his position in the meantime if he thinks it advisable in his own interests," he said.

Alderman Brown stated that in the discussion with department heads he had assured them that every service receiving grants from the city will be thoroughly investigated this year before such grants are made. There was no doubt, he said, that firm and possibly unpopular decisions would have to be made in this regard if the interests of the ratepayers were to be safeguarded.

The total of salaries affected by the proposed 10 per cent cut was about $483,028, he stated, so the reduction in this direction would save approximately $48,303. Further, the cut in aldermanic indemnities would amount to about $1,200.

STREET CAR MEN VOTE ON WAGES

Ballot in Winnipeg Will Decide if Staff Will Quit Work

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Jan. 6.—First ballots in the strike referendum of Winnipeg street railwaymen were cast this morning, twenty-four hours before balloting was originally arranged to have been started. Earlier voting was decided on for the benefit of Ukrainian employees, who to-morrow will start the Polish Christmas holidays and will not be at work. Only a small proportion of the 1,000 or more members of the street railwaymen's unit of the One Big Union voted to-day, the majority planning to mark their ballots to-morrow.

The result probably will be announced Friday morning and if it favors strike action, the men are expected to walk out Saturday morning.

Union officials to-day forecast the men would vote to go on strike in protest against the proposed terms of their employment, the Winnipeg Electric Company, to cut wages ten per cent.

Not only One Big Union members would be eligible to participate in a strike, the Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council yesterday evening having authorized members of the Amalgamated Street Railway Employees' Union to walk out with the rest if the voting should favor strike action.

Senators of U.S. Declare Confidence In Business Strength of Dominion

Bill Before Congress Recognizes Canadian Securities as Backing For Loans Under Big Credit Scheme in United States

Washington, Jan. 6.—Striking evidence of confidence in Canadian securities was given by a United States Senate banking sub-committee yesterday, when it added an amendment to the bill embodying President Hoover's proposed gigantic reconstruction finance corporation, allowing loans and advances to financial institutions of this country on the backing of securities of the Dominion.

Both Canadian government and Canadian corporation securities are accorded this unique status. No other foreign government or foreign corporation securities are given the recognition extended to the Dominion.

The proposal, approved in bill form yesterday by the sub-committee, seeks to infuse new life to the extent of $2,000,000,000 worth of credit into the industrial and commercial arteries of the United States. The full committee later gave its endorsement and the measure was listed to go to the Senate today. Leaders forecast quick passage.

TO ISSUE BONDS
The corporation would be established with a governmental capitalization of $500,000,000. Its purpose would be to extend loans and credits to banks, insurance companies and other bona fide financial institutions in need of such accommodations. It would have authority to issue bonds up to $1,500,000,000, and the treasury would be authorized, if necessary, to buy or sell these bonds.

The amendment singling out recognition of Canadian securities and excluding those of all other countries was that "no loans or advances shall be made on securities issued by foreign governments or corporations, except those of the Dominion of Canada and of Canadian corporations, or for the purpose of assisting in the carrying or liquidation of such securities as collateral."

By Ken Clark, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
Washington, Jan. 6.—The exception made by the United States Senate sub-committee on banking and currency in favor of Canadian government and corporation securities, admitting them to benefit under the operations of President Hoover's $2,000,000,000 reconstruction corporation, was a "compliment" to Canadian business, Senator Charles McNary of Oregon told the Canadian Press today.

The senator said it had been proposed to the committee as a neighborly gesture to exempt Canadian securities from the provision that "no loans or advances shall be made on securities issued by foreign governments or corporations, except those of the Dominion of Canada and of Canadian corporations, or for the purpose of assisting in the carrying or liquidation of such securities as collateral."

EXPECTED SOON TO BE SIGNED
The plan to begin senate consideration today of the bill was blocked, however, when Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, objected. Despite the delay, administration quarters saw a chance for the legislation to be ready for presidential signature before the week-end.

In objecting, Senator Blaine related the rapid consideration given the bill by the banking committee.

Canadian Press
London, Jan. 6.—Much of the farm land of Europe and a good many little towns along the river banks were under water today as heavy rains sent the streams past the flood stage.

Several rivers in Germany had overflowed their banks, there was considerable suffering among the rural population in the flooded areas of Czechoslovakia, and France also was having river trouble.

SHIPS IN DIFFICULTY
In Britain, the storm struck first along the southwest coast, whipping up heavy seas and making trouble for ships. The steamship Ingola got into difficulties, but later was able to get under way and the danger of drifting on the rocks in Start Bay, at first feared, was avoided.

The steamship Balboa, bound from Vancouver and San Francisco, was hoisted in the Channel, while several naval vessels were delayed in joining the Atlantic Fleet for exercises.

THE BRITISH STEAMSHIP Jersey City of 6,322 tons, radioed for assistance and reported she was drifting ten miles from Bishop's Rock with her engines broken down.

CAUSALITIES
No casualties were reported in Great Britain, although two small boats were sunk at the mouth of the Thames. The crews were rescued.

A violent storm was reported approaching from the Atlantic and winds of hurricane force were expected.

THREE GERMANS DROWNED
Haberstadt, Germany, Jan. 6.—Floods caused the deaths of three persons in this region, two by drowning near here and another in Saxony. The waters were receding today.

FLOODS IN FRANCE
Bar-le-Duc, France, Jan. 6.—Half a dozen rivers in this vicinity were at flood stage today because of heavy rains and melting snow. There was considerable property damage, but no loss of life was reported.

TWO BISHOPS CONSECRATED IN VANCOUVER

Very Rev. R. J. Renison Becomes Anglican Bishop of Athabasca Diocese
Canon A. H. Sovereign Becomes Bishop of the Yukon

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Jan. 6.—With deeply impressive ceremonial, the Very Rev. R. J. Renison, D.D., was consecrated Bishop of Athabasca and Rev. Canon A. H. Sovereign, D.D., Bishop of the Yukon, in Christ Church Cathedral here this morning.

The service was unusual in that seldom in the history of the church are two bishops consecrated at the same time, and that the service was held outside the bounds of the ecclesiastical province in which the new bishops will preside over their dioceses. Both the most prominent in the province of Rupert's Land and ordinarily the consecration service would have been held in Winnipeg, but as the two bishops were prominent in the life of Vancouver, the request was made that the service should be held here, to which Archbishop Stringer of Rupert's Land readily assented.

Admission to the ceremony was by ticket only and for the 1,200 seats in the cathedral there were applications for twice that number of seats. Both Rev. Renison and Dr. Sovereign are popular in Vancouver, the latter having taken a leading part in church affairs, so their many friends desired to see them elevated to the bishopric.

Metropolitan of British Columbia, Metropolitan of British Columbia, welcomed Archbishop Stringer and assured him that "this church is as your own for this service, to which the Metropolitan of Rupert's Land replied. He then requested Archbishop de Penier to proceed with the service of Holy Communion. The Epistle was read by Rev. Canon A. H. Sovereign, Bishop of the Yukon, the Gospel by Rev. W. T. Sumner, representing the presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, and the sermon was preached by Rev. R. J. Renison, D.D., Bishop of Calgary.

BISHOP SHERMAN PREACHED
Bishop Sherman preached an appropriate sermon from the words in the Book of Isaiah, "Who knows whether thou art come to the kingdom of such a time as this?" The time was propitious, he said, and there were many encouragements for those who believe in the future of the church. In the realm of religion Christ had become a centre, and thinking people everywhere were giving God the rightful place in the universe. The practical application of religion to the needs of the scattered settlements of the north and south were welcomed into the House of Bishops, and would be upheld by the prayers of the people.

During the singing of a hymn the new bishops retired to the vestry and were vested with rochet. As soon as they returned Dr. Sovereign was presented by Bishop Hallam of Saskatchewan and Bishop Huxley of Olympia, Washington, and Dr. Renison by Bishop Cross of Spokane, and Bishop Doull of Kootenay.

CERTIFICATE READ
Rev. Canon S. Gould, acting for the registrar of Rupert's Land, read the certificate of election and concurrence in the case of both bishops, and the oath of canonical obedience was administered by Archbishop Stringer.

Litany was led by Archdeacon Heston of Vancouver, and the questions to each of the candidates. While another hymn was sung the bishops retired to the vestry and were vested in the full garb of a bishop. Then followed the formal consecration by the laying on of hands of the archbishops and bishops and Archbishop Stringer presented Bibles to the new bishops, who in the great congregation stood in silence.

LOOT OF BIG BANK ROBBERY HANDED OVER
Chicago, Jan. 6.—A notorious bank robber and gangster yesterday restored virtually all the $2,750,000 loot of the greatest bank robbery in history.

Agents for the Lincoln National Bank and Trust Company of Lincoln, Neb., were handed negotiable securities worth $583,000. Gus Winkler, the bandit, absolved of any implication in the robbery, had already supplied proof of the destruction of registered bonds with a value of $2,177,000, making possible the issuance of new certificates.

The final occurred last yesterday in the office of the "Secret Six" where Capt. Roy Steffen turned the recovered loot over to W. E. Barclay, director of the bank, in the presence of County Attorney Max Towle of Lincoln.

Where they had been cached and from whom Winkler obtained them remains a secret.

This Winkler kept his pledge. Captured near Benton Harbor, Mich., after an escape that cost him the sight of one eye, he vowed his innocence of the Lincoln robbery, but was taken to the Nebraska capital, where in jail, now serving twenty-five-year penitentiary terms.

His friends dug up a $100,000 bond. Winkler came to Chicago and, through his attorneys, promised to recover the stolen bonds if Nebraska would drop his prosecution. He wanted to be "washed up."

He had an alibi and the officers checked his story and found it true. The robbery indictment was dismissed.

J. ROSEWALD, CHICAGO, DIES

Built Fortune in Retail Merchandising; Gave Much in Philanthropy

Associated Press
Chicago, Jan. 6.—Julius Rosenwald, sixty-nine, who built a fortune in retail merchandising and gave more than $25,000,000 to benefit humanity, died today at his suburban home in Highland Park of kidney and heart disease.

Julius Rosenwald devoted many millions of the dollars he had amassed in business to hammering at racial and creedal prejudices and to encouraging thrift.

His philanthropic work in the United States was extraordinary, he said over and over again.

His earning power started in 1873 when he pumped a church organ at Springfield, Ill., for a cent an hour. It culminated in 1910 when he became head of the Chicago mail order house of Sears, Roebuck & Company.

He built up this business until its annual turnover exceeded $300,000,000 and its branches could be found in almost every sizable United States town from coast to coast.

In the interim he had been a newspaper in Springfield, a clothing store clerk in New York, a shopkeeper on Fifth Avenue and a manufacturer of men's clothing.

His philanthropies grew with his income. They centred largely in efforts to aid negroes in the United States and oppressed Jews in foreign lands. But his giving had no set bounds and gold flowed generously from his purse to white people as well as black and to Gentiles as well as Jews.

Mr. Rosenwald was born in a house close to the old home of Abraham Lincoln in Springfield, Ill., August 12, 1862, and was one of five children. His two brothers and one sister died in Chicago. The mother of the family, Mrs. Augusta Rosenwald, died there February 4, 1921. She was born in Germany, moved to the United States in 1883 and married Samuel R. Rosenwald in Baltimore in 1887.

Of his boyhood, Julius Rosenwald often said: "I was uneducated in the public schools."

NO WORD ON WHEAT QUOTA
British Agriculture Ministry, Millers and Grain Trade Heads Mute on Question

Canadian Press
London, Jan. 6.—Neither the Ministry of Agriculture nor representatives of the British farmers, millers and corn trade are yet in a position to give official information on the progress of the joint conversations respecting the government's proposed wheat quota.

Conflicting reports are the trend of the discussions have been published. The London News-Chronicle today asserted the millers, farmers and merchants had agreed to the government's scheme on condition that a duty would be placed on flour imports, with an Empire preference, or in lieu of Empire preference, a quota of the British market be reserved for Empire flour.

British millers, however, declared this report was untrue. One prominent miller said his colleagues were not likely to agree to anything that would be detrimental to their business.

The negotiations have been in progress since before Christmas.

DOLLAR 84.5-8 ON EXCHANGE
New York, Jan. 6.—Canadian and British currencies were easier in late trading in local foreign exchanges. The Canadian dollar declined 1/8 of 1 cent to 84 1/2 cents after rising earlier in the day to 84 3/4.

Sterling was bid at 83 3/4, down 1/8 from the previous close.

FRITTERED AWAY
Sir Richard McBride's strong party government had stumbled matters for a time, and then by the sale of natural resources had piled up a great surplus of $6,000,000 in the boom days. This had all been frittered away until in 1914 the last Conservative budget estimated less than $5,000,000 revenue and more than $10,000,000 expenditures.

MOST OF CONGRESS LEADERS IN INDIA NOW IN CUSTODY

The government yesterday extended to four important cities and the entire Presidency of Madras the ordinances outlawing the Nationalist Congress party. Vithalbhai Patel, former president of the Indian Legislative Assembly, was one of the first to be arrested.

BUSINESS FALLS OFF
The new ordinances prohibit all contributions to Gandhi's party and all picketing, Bombay, Calcutta, New Delhi and Ajmer are among the cities covered by the extension of the decrees. Most Hindu stores and business houses remained closed and business declined sharply. The Bombay Cotton Exchange, the bullion exchange and the grain exchange were closed. Cotton operators and merchants who had commitments or orders on their hands were squaring their books by operations through the Liverpool market.

With Gandhi a privileged prisoner in the Yerodi jail people in India today had knowledge of a remarkable set of commands or instructions written by him. A Poona newspaper, which said it had been passed out after his arrest, gave them as follows:

"First, withdraw every form of co-operation from the government."

"Second, carry out the resolutions of the Congress working committee no matter what hardship or loss of life and property is involved."

"Third, discard every trace of violence from your heart; give absolute protection to every Englishman, woman or child."

"Fourth, discard all drugs and narcotics and intoxicating drinks."

"Fifth, fast, pray, meditate."

BOYCOTT CHIEF WEAPON
"Sixth, remember that boycott is our main weapon. There may be ordinances by the government, arrests, massacre by the police, but we must remain unbridled. This is the price every citizen pays for his freedom. The boycott is the weapon which will bring England to her knees. No power on earth can make you buy a thing unless you wish to."

"Seventh, refuse to touch anything British. Regarding other foreign goods, buy them only if you cannot dispense with them. Remember that every imported article means customs revenue for the government—money which will go toward the purchase of munitions to kill you and those you love."

"Eighth, it is your bounden duty to prevent every cent from going into the government coffers. Use the post, telegraph and railway as little as possible, because these are the higher incomes of the government and the revenue from which the government extracts revenue from you."

"Ninth, refuse to buy any government securities."

"Tenth, discard foreign garments and wear homespun."

SEVERAL INJURED
Cawnpore, India, Jan. 6.—Several Nationalists were injured today when police attacked a crowd with their sticks.

The office of the local Nationalist Congress was closed by the police and several members arrested, including the local president and a woman member.

New Delhi, Jan. 6.—The Maharajah of Patiala, chancellor of the Chamber of Princes, promulgated an ordinance today declaring any society helping to spread sedition or terrorism within his state would be declared unlawful. The ordinance will be effective Jan. 10.

TO ASK JAPAN TO STATE PLANS IN MANCHURIA

Nanking, Jan. 6.—Official reports from Peking today said Japanese troops were marching westward from Chinchow on the ancient Chinese capital, Jehol, on the Luan River. Their strength was estimated at 4,000 men.

GENERAL'S OPINION
Tokio, Jan. 6.—A Rengo News Agency dispatch from Moji, Japan, today quoted Gen. Minami, who is returning from a tour of inspection of Manchuria, as favoring an independent government there.

Official circles took the view that the general, who is a member of Japan's supreme War Council, may have been misquoted. "That is a rather bold assertion, even coming from a soldier," a civilian official said.

"The Manchurian situation should now be stabilized," the dispatch quoted Gen. Minami as saying, "under three important principles, namely, the open door, equality of opportunity and autonomy."

butter fat production. It is declared only about 2 per cent of the dairy cattle in Ontario are tested. The department claims British Columbia and Saskatchewan are the most progressive provinces in this connection.

Dr. Riddick told the meeting Canadian dairymen were laying too much emphasis on the exaggerated claims of natural advantage in New Zealand while refusing to improve their herds. He went into the systems followed in New Zealand and in Denmark.

MUCH IMPRESSED
"I was much impressed," he said, "at the International Dairy Congress in Copenhagen last summer with the amount of attention herd improvement is receiving all over the dairy world. It is apparently one of those widespread movements that we in Canada seem to ignore. One must, therefore, if we do not join it, we shall wake up to the fact we are unable to compete with the rest of the world because of our relatively high cost of production."

"I do not wish Canadian dairy farmers to think I am suggesting they should be expected to do certain things just because they are done in Denmark. The conditions are different. But surely there too wide a margin between the yield of Danish and Canadian cows. That Canadian farmers can produce good yields has been proved over and over again. So far as I can find out, there are higher individual and higher herd records in Canada than you will find in Denmark."

FARMERS SHARE COSTS
"It is rather significant," proceeded Dr. Riddick, "that in New Zealand, Denmark and other countries where the cow-testing has made more progress, the herd owners have taken the initiative and have borne most of the cost. In Canada, the movement is showing best results in Saskatchewan and British Columbia, where the cost of the cow is borne by the farmers themselves. This seems to suggest that when the people pay for a service, they get more out of it. They want to get their money's worth. I sometimes think governments do too many things for the people in this country. It tends to destroy initiative and self reliance and to encourage an unhealthy dependence on the public purse."

"New Zealand records do not show the yield of milk; the record is based on the pounds of fat only. The average for all cows under test in 1930-31 was 243 pounds of fat. In 1923-24, it was only 207 pounds. The New Zealanders are making a great progress in this respect and they are increasing their profits through increased production and at the same time decreasing the costs of production."

NEW ZEALAND COSTS HIGH
"New Zealand producers have no great advantage over Canadian producers through natural conditions. The more or less year-round pastorage, an advantage which is more apparent than real, is offset by the high price of land, labor costs and lack of means for utilizing factory by-products, such as skim milk and whey, to good advantage. In New Zealand there is only one pig to two and a half cows. In Canada the pigs outnumber the cows by a considerable margin."

"Altogether too much emphasis is given to these alleged natural advantages of the New Zealand dairy farmers by speakers and writers who arrive at their conclusions by inference rather than from personal knowledge of all days.

COMMISSIONER INVESTIGATES
Col. J. H. McCallum, commissioner of the British Columbia police, was expected in Vancouver today to conduct an inquiry into the prison outbreak. He is also inspector of jails for the province. W. H. Dunwoody, assistant commissioner stationed in Vancouver, has been investigating the escape at Okalla for the last two days.

GIVEN OVERCOAT
From scores of calls received during yesterday afternoon, and evening from persons who believed they had seen one or all of the hunted men, city police placed some credence in one from a Dunbar resident. At 7:30 p.m. a woman telephoned that a man had come to her door and asked for food and clothing. She gave him 50 cents and an old overcoat. After he had left she became suspicious. She had seen pictures of the fugitives in a newspaper. She was convinced her caller was Fawcett.

Every clue, hopeful or otherwise, was being followed to-day by police officers. The Kitchikan Indian Reserve here was under observation and regular patrols were working in other parts of the city where the fugitive might find shelter.

VERNON ATTEMPT
Police at Vernon are interested in the recapture of William Lane, alias Kearney, who, with Norman Moore, was apprehended by Vancouver police near Little Mountain Monday afternoon. While held at Vernon in September, Lane dug away concrete at the base of his cell window and succeeded in prying the bars apart. Had not firemen next to the jail heard him at work it is stated he would have escaped.

Col. J. H. McCallum, commissioner of the British Columbia police, was expected in Vancouver today to conduct an inquiry into the prison outbreak. He is also inspector of jails for the province. W. H. Dunwoody, assistant commissioner stationed in Vancouver, has been investigating the escape at Okalla for the last two days.

While the men were being placed under arrest two others appeared carrying a quantity of food and goods. They fled when they saw the officers and Detective Thompson "winged" one of them with a revolver shot.

The wounded man escaped, however, but shortly after 8 o'clock was picked up in a house on Howe Street. He gave his name as Dan Dyer.

Driver was wounded in the side and the bullet passed into his body. Physicians later endeavored to remove it.

In the suite occupied by the men, who had apparently pooled their slim resources, were found a quantity of food and other goods reported stolen from houses in the neighborhood, according to the police.

It is thought by the police the arrests will clear up a number of burglaries and house breakings which have been plaguing the downtown and west end districts in the last few weeks.

GIVEN REMAND
Scott appeared in police court and was remanded till January 13, when it is expected Thompson will be able to leave the hospital and appear with him.

ASK PROVINCE LESSEN CLAIMS

Manufacturers Assert Logging Suffers From Stringent Tax Lien

Government Asked to Abandon Right to Seize Machinery For Taxes

Hardships imposed on merchants, manufacturers and logging interests arising from the right of the province, under forestry and taxation laws, to seize goods purchased on conditional sale, were pleaded before the provincial government yesterday by a deputation of the British Columbia division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

Resolutions were presented asking recognition of the rights of private individuals under the Conditional Sale Act. Repeal of the existing seizure provisions of section 126 of the Forest Act and section 143 of the Taxation Act was suggested as an alternative. The large delegation was introduced by F. C. Brown, chairman of the British Columbia division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. Most of those attending were from Vancouver, the Victoria members being H. B. Elworthy and Walter Miles, representing tugboat interests; L. S. Duke representing automobile and truck firms; H. E. Anstie, general heavy mill supplies, and Charles Ireland, electrical equipment. T. J. Goodlake, secretary of the Victoria branch, represented other local interests.

TEN YEARS' FIGHT
Mr. Brown stated that the manufacturers had been fighting for ten years to secure a readjustment of the equity rights involved, without depriving the province of its proper recourse against delinquent taxpayers. Several speakers declared the existing legislation bore heavily on both loggers and those who supplied them with machinery. Such goods were customarily sold on time agreements. The threat of forfeiture being possible, should purchasers default in taxes, reduced credit in such sales and made vendors chary of making sales on a time basis with only a lien on the goods as security for payment. Careful consideration was promised by the cabinet.

TELS OF EARLY LIFE IN B.C.

Illustrated Address Given By C. H. French to Round Table Club

C. H. French, former chief factor and now ex-commissioner of the Hudson's Bay Company, addressed the Round Table Club at the Empress Hotel yesterday evening on early life in British Columbia. His talk was illustrated by a number of fine pictures. Mr. French recalled the days of the gold rushes and of seal-hunting off the coast. The seal herds, he explained, started off the California coast, traveling northward through the winter to breed in northern waters. Street scenes in old-time Victoria, pictures of Indians and Eskimos on the coast of the province and scenic views from several sections of the province were shown, drawing much comment from the members. He also illustrated a number of early boats, including the historic Beaver. Prior to the address, Alderman W. T. Strath, club president, announced an extensive programme of dinner addresses until the holiday season, covering a variety of topics.

MAN AND SON FOUND DEAD

Seattle, Jan. 6.—Fred W. Oakes, forty, and his son, Robert, thirteen, were found dead in bed here yesterday evening, police said, as a result of a murder and suicide plot by Oakes because of failure to effect a reconciliation with his wife. The tragedy is believed to have occurred New Year's Eve, when they last were seen by neighbors. Police said they found a fifty-foot garden hose leading from a gas meter in the basement through a freshly bored hole in the floor to a heating stove in the bedroom of the Oakes home.

Saves Nine Lives But Scorns Praise

Fireman Ernie Bennett saved nine lives yesterday! But he is a modest hero, and although his rescue act was watched by an admiring crowd, he laughed at the plaudits which greeted him after he was evened. "I just did my duty," he chuckled.

The nine lives, it appears, were all in the same skin, that of a fruit picker which climbed to the top of a pole at the corner of King's Road and Graham Street and was afraid to come down. Aid from the fire department was sought by some passersby who sympathized with Kitty's plight, and Fireman Bennett with spurs and belt, climbed the pole and rescued her.

With a thankful "meow" she scampered away home.

SHOWS VALUE OF PRUNING

Methods of Increasing Production of Fruit Trees Shown Horticulturists

The manner in which best results could be obtained from fruit tree pruning was explained to members of the Victoria Horticultural Society by E. W. White, district horticulturist, at the society's monthly meeting in the City Hall yesterday evening. The speaker gave demonstrations of pruning and grafting after his short talk.

He showed the value of pruning old trees to let more light and air into the tree and bring out new shoots with fruiting potentialities. He advised cutting back to the wood as much as possible and outlined the advantages and disadvantages of various types of pruning, principally in respect to apple, pear, plum, prune and cherry trees.

He stressed the advisability of systematic pruning, saying great results followed same and regular cutting away of superfluous growth and useless wood.

GRAFTING BEST IN SPRING

Grafting could be accomplished best in the spring, Mr. White said. Two kinds of wood were necessary for grafting, he said, stock and scion, preferably dormant scions. The following formula for grafting wax was recommended by the speaker: Five pounds of resin, one pound of beeswax, one-quarter pint of raw linseed oil, with the addition of a little lamp-black.

Following the speaker's address, Dr. A. G. Price, the president, expressed New Year's greetings to the members. The winners of the monthly competition, for January, were: L. S. Turner and 2 Mrs. E. W. Darius. More than forty varieties of flowers in bloom at the present time were named at the meeting.

NEW MEDALS FOR LONG SERVICE IN REGIMENTS

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 6.—A new officers' decoration and a medal for other ranks common to the non-permanent militia and territorial forces of the whole empire have been devised by the War Office in London and will replace the various awards which, from time to time, have been granted for long and honorable service. The V.D. or Volunteer Decoration for officers, and the old Colonial Auxiliary Forces' Long Service Medal will disappear in Canada, their place to be taken by the Efficiency Decoration for officers and the Efficiency Medal for other ranks. The Efficiency Decoration will entitle the recipients to append the letters ED to their rank and name.

Twenty years on the active list, of which ten years spent in the ranks may count, with double time conceded for war service, constitute the requirements for the ED, but officers who have not been awarded the V.D. are not entitled to count the service they spent for that award as qualifying them for the ED. ANNUAL TRAINING PERIODS
For the Efficiency Medal, twelve years' efficient service are required, including twelve annual trainings. Claps will be awarded on completion of eighteen years and twenty-four years of service. Service must be continuous except in special circumstances provided for in the Royal Warrant or defined by regulations. The ribbon of the ED is green, with a yellow stripe down the centre, that of the Efficiency Medal is green with yellow stripes down the edges. Pending the establishment of local regulations for the award, the award of the two new honors will be effective in this country as from September 23, 1931.

Red Deer, Alberta, To Have Tax Cut

Canadian Press
Red Deer, Alta., Jan. 6.—"The city of Red Deer closed the year 1931 in a better financial condition than ever before."

This was the statement with which A. T. Stevenson, for twenty-four years city commissioner of this central Alberta railway town, introduced his annual report to the city council yesterday evening.

Tax collections touched 85 per cent, the highest in history. Including arrears, taxes collected totaled fractionally under 100 per cent of the 1931 levy, and 99.33 per cent of the business tax was collected.

All debentures were paid and $5,000 in treasury bills due in 1932 were purchased and cancelled, and $25,000 cut from the city debt.

There were no bank borrowings during the year. Instead, the city collected $600 interest on deposits. Tax reductions are in sight.

Spokane Is Given Cheaper Plumbing

Associated Press
Spokane, Wash., Jan. 6.—Asked to accept a reduction in wages from $10 to $8 a day, master plumbers here went their employers one better yesterday and offered to work for $5. The offer was accepted.

Officials of the plumbers' union said such a reduction should help to stimulate business not only in that line, but in business generally. Not only did they accept the wage cut, but the plumbers said they would furnish materials at cost plus 10 per cent, compared with 17 and 20 per cent formerly. About thirty plumbers in seventeen shops are involved.

Police Measures In Portugal

Lisbon, Jan. 6.—Portugal was quiet to-day after the arrest yesterday evening of 200 persons at Oporto and the seizure of a quantity of bombs and arms on suspicion a revolution was being planned. Reports of possible trouble still circulated, however, and the government was taking all precautions privately to guard against a surprise.

A CONSTRUCTIVE PROPOSAL.

MR. T. D. PATTULLO TOLD THE Lady Laurier Club in Vancouver yesterday that the man on the land-to-day was relatively in a much better position than the city dweller. One of the most unfortunate tendencies in recent years has been the steady stream of population from the rural to the urban areas. As the Liberal leader observed, it is high time an effective "back-to-the-land" movement were initiated by the Dominion government in co-operation with the provinces and the transportation companies. No haphazard plan would meet the situation; financial and other assistance would have to be given to settlers. But an enterprise of this kind would be eventually reproductive and an important factor in increasing the demand for the products of the cities. Mr. Pattullo marshalled his arguments thusly:

The living of men in centres with nothing to do must be overcome. With our immense area in Canada, and our sparse population, the remedy is much easier than in many countries of small area and over-population.

At many meetings during last summer I advocated the policy of placing men upon the land. I have pointed out the importance of agriculture in British Columbia, and I have stated that the time was not far distant when agricultural production would exceed in value the production of any other industry in the province. Only a few days ago, governmental reports indicated that this year agricultural production exceeded in value that of any other industry in the province.

There are those who say, "What is the use of putting men upon the land when they can not sell their products at a profit, and sometimes, can not sell them at all?" Well, the fact is that the North American continent was built up in large measure by homesteaders who had no market for their products.

The fact of the matter is the man on the land is relatively better off than he of any other occupation endeavor to-day. The amount that he requires over and above what he can raise himself is comparatively small. To-day there are not the hardships endured by our forefathers in settling on the land. Modern conveniences are immediately available, and there is almost no such thing as isolation.

Mr. Pattullo very properly reminded his audience that there are available in British Columbia considerable areas of land upon which millions have already been spent, but which would require very little further capital expenditure. In his opinion, all that is necessary is a measure of assistance to those who may be settled upon these areas, to enable them to tide over the period until they can make their holdings produce. One of the first cries that would be raised, of course, would be that more money would be lost. To such a suggestion the Liberal leader replied:

I do not think there need be heavy loss, but, in any event, it will be a profitable loss rather than dead loss, such as some of our present unemployment relief measures running into the millions. Not only could a large number be absorbed in the manner I have indicated, but it would stimulate effort in other directions. There would be a constant and diminishing line of unemployment, and before long we would be in position to encourage this country settlers from other countries who would be a valuable addition in helping to develop the immense reaches of Canada.

The railroads of Canada were built upon the assumption of continuous increase of population, and with increased population, the railroad problem, which now appears so ominous, would automatically solve itself.

I can think of no single line of endeavor of practical character which would be more beneficial to Canada than a vigorous settlement policy.

If Mr. Pattullo be called upon to form a government after the next provincial election, he promises a programme of development of which an effective "back-to-the-land" movement will be an important cornerstone. Such a movement obviously is essential to the progress of British Columbia. There are many unemployed men in the cities of this province to-day who, if they could be given access to land and financial assistance, would soon be producing sufficient for their own and their family's needs—and something besides for sale. Mr. Pattullo will be rendering valuable service to British Columbia, which he already has served notably, by pressing this matter.

IT WOULD PAY WELL

OFFICERS OF THE VANCOUVER PUBLICITY BUREAU propose to interview Premier Tolmie and suggest to him that the provincial government match the publicity grants of Victoria and Vancouver this year so that a more intense campaign for tourists may be carried on along the Pacific Coast.

There are two special reasons why British Columbia should go after this highly-profitable trade with greater vigor this year. Thousands of residents of the middle-west and eastern states will be coming to the Olympic Games at Los Angeles this summer, and many of them probably could be persuaded to return home through Victoria and Vancouver. The other inducement is the premium the American dollar is enjoying in Canada.

In this latter regard, incidentally, there is no reason to suppose the handicap under which our money has to work in the United States will be as heavy as it is at present for very long. But the indications are that visitors from the other side will be able to make their dollar go considerably farther on this side than at home for some time.

ENJOYING TRAVEL

THE HAPLESS MALE WHO IS PULLED, protesting, through the art museums and cathedrals of Europe by a high-minded and culture-hungry better-half has been one of the comic figures of literature for a good many years. Mark Twain struck a blow in his favor in "Innocents Abroad"; for the most part, however, the poor man has been left to the superior derision of the intelligentia, unhonored and unsung.

Now, most refreshingly, Francis Hackett arises in the January issue of Harper's Magazine to assert that this luckless figure of tradition has pretty much the right idea.

When you travel, says Mr. Hackett, travel for fun. Do not do it to improve your mind. Have a good time; and if having a good time does not lead you to art museums and such-like, do not worry about it.

"The most dangerous thing for a conscientious man," says Mr. Hackett, "is to defect his moral vacuity and begin filling it up with cathedrals and museums. Especially must he control the weakness he may have for art galleries. 'One hour in the gardens,' he should say, 'where the mind is refreshed by the living picture, is worth 2,000 acres of dried-up oil painting.'"

Now there is a lot of sense in that; and it points to the rather surprising fact that the most memorable moments usually come to a traveler when he is least expecting them.

You can gaze at the glories of Versailles, trudge through the Louvre open-mouthed, follow an inquisitive nose through Westminster Abbey and view the Acropolis by moonlight; but when you get back home you are apt to find that your brightest, most valuable memories are of insignificant things you hardly noticed at the time—lengthening shadows across a green English meadow, sunlight on the waves in mid-ocean, an empty stretch of poplar-bordered French road, a hastily-glanced cottage by an English river.

Such things are not in guide books, nor are they mentioned in travelers' diaries. But they are of the real essence of the joys of travel. You can go to Europe to find them, or you can find them on an afternoon's motor trip in your own province. You need only open eyes and a receptive mind.

FAR-FETCHED

THE VANCOUVER STAR THIS MORNING printed the following and somewhat amusing suggestive dispatch from its special correspondent at Honolulu:

Honolulu, T.H., Jan. 5.—Attack on the proposed Canadian-New Zealand preferential trade agreement by an obscure Vancouver weekly newspaper has become a disquieting influence on the treaty conference now in progress here.

Copies of this publication, The Shaughnessy Standard, which is said to be edited by a relation of Rt. Hon. Stanley Bruce, former premier of Australia, and now a member of the Lyons ministry, were mailed to Hon. W. Downie Stewart, head of the New Zealand delegation. Since their receipt, it is said, the difficulties facing the Canadian delegation have been increased. Further delay in reaching an agreement is understood to be due largely to the attack launched by this newspaper.

Conversations at the plenary session continue to hinge around the better question. It is understood that the preferential treatment on butter to be extended by Canada to the southern Dominion is still unsettled. The New Zealanders are seeking exceptional treatment, more favorable to them than the preference that is already granted to Australia.

At the same time, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and head of the Canadian delegation, is pressing for preferences on Canadian manufactures, paper and wood products entering New Zealand.

We have not read the comment in The Shaughnessy Standard to which the dispatch refers, but the idea that anything which could be said about the conference now in progress in Honolulu by an obscure little weekly newspaper of limited circulation in Vancouver is too heavy a strain on the credulity of the average reader to be taken seriously. It is plain enough that The Shaughnessy Standard is being used as a peg upon which to hang an inspired intimation that the negotiations are snagged and likely to end in nothing. It ought to be possible, however, to prepare the public for probable failure—if such preparation is needed—without picking upon a relatively unknown little weekly publication on the mainland.

The fact is that there never was much prospect of a successful outcome of the negotiations at Honolulu for reasons so obvious that it is not complimentary to the intelligence of our readers to repeat them. The question of butter, of course, is the crux of the whole situation, and long before Hon. Mr. Stevens and his entourage left for Honolulu the New Zealand government had made it abundantly plain that under no circumstances would it give a preference to Canadian manufactures unless Canada gave a preference to New Zealand butter. Moreover, just before her representative left for Honolulu, New Zealand entered into a favored-nation treaty with Belgium under which her butter is admitted into that profitable market under especially favorable terms.

An ironical commentary on this whole situation lies in the well-known fact that never had the fortunes of the butter industry in Canada been so low as they became after the tariff was raised against butter imports from the south seas. On top of that we have lost in New Zealand a market which in normal times was valued at about $19,000,000 a year!

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

CRIME IN EGYPT
 The Cairo Sphinx

If any further proof were required of Egypt's happy immunity from the effects of the world crisis, it would be sufficient to refer to the criminal statistics for the month of September last. Whereas every other country in the world seems to be less fortunate in proportion to the previous year's crime record, Egypt appears to have improved, and not slightly, but a great deal.

TRASHY RADIO PROGRAMMES MENACE
 The Mail and Empire

The Mail and Empire has of late published a number of letters protesting the unpleasant broadcasts which are daily received over the radio. Far too great a portion of the matter received is of a rather sickening character. It is suggestive and laden with sex-appeal. Much of the music is barbarous, appealing only to the primitive instincts of mankind. Too much of the advertising matter that comes over the air is also objectionable in character. But the immoral nature of too many of the broadcasts is the feature to which decent people most object. This rubbish might not prove very injurious to the average adult, but it is listened to by hundreds of thousands of adolescents all over the Dominion, and it must have a highly injurious effect upon their unformed minds. If this abuse of privately owned stations is continued there will soon be an overwhelming public demand for the complete nationalization of broadcasting. The United States stations are, of course, the worst offenders, but they are killing their own prospects. Just so the greedy saloon keepers some years ago abused their license privileges until an outraged people arose and closed the bars forever.

Loose Ends

Mr. Beak voices some dangerous ideas — Mr. Pudbury is shocked — and a silly reply is made.

By H. B. W.

ONE COULD tell by the lateral movement of Mr. Beak's upper lip that the matter of dispute was serious. Mr. Pudbury, I gathered, had just ventured the opinion that the new owner of the farm at the foot of the hill was a "real gentleman, not plays golf and all, and is in society, a aristocrat sure, and native son of the soil."

Mr. Beak sniffed portentously. "A Victoria haristocrat, heh? In society, heh? Well, now, George, let me tell you about the Victoria haristocracy—there ain't none. There's only people as thinks they are it. And I'll tell you why. Hit's impossible, that's why."

"Why?" asked Mr. Pudbury, very intelligently then ever.

"Because," said Mr. Beak, "Victoria hasn't hold enough to 'ave perduced a haristocracy. That's why."

"Why?" repeated Mr. Pudbury, more intelligently than ever.

"BECAUSE," SAID Mr. Beak, "it takes at least three hundred years to perduce a haristocracy, and Victoria ain't a hundred yet. You see, before you can 'ave a haristocracy, there's got to be time for people to forget the beginning's of it. Before a man can be a real haristocrat 'is friends must 'ave forgotten that 'is family got its start smugling' run into Cornwall or stealin' sheep up in the 'ighlands of Scotland, 'efore you can 'ave a real society, whatchu might call the e-light, there must be plenty of time to live down the past."

NOW TAKE Victoria, there hasn't nothin' wrong with 'er. But what's the good of talkin' about an 'ereditary haristocracy when there's lots of folks who remember when everybody 'ere was a-livin' in a log house without no bathtub? What's the good of kiddin' yerself that yer in society when everybody knows your granddaddy used to sell hickory to the Indians and your granddaddy waited on table durin' the gold rush? What's the good of bein' snooty because yer family has been since the beginning when everybody knows it never had a drop of suit, or hanny plumbin' until just before the real estate boom?"

"That," said Mr. Pudbury rather stiffly, "is not I call small and spiteful, that's wot. There's lots of fine gentlemen of old families out here from the Old Country."

UMPH! SAID Mr. Beak sceptically. "Yeh, I know there is and of course they don't know about things 'ere. They ain't been 'ere long enough to remember when most of the 'igher circles of society in this town couldn't see no use in a fork, except to load their food on their knives. Anyway, I suspect a lot of the humped haristocrats, too. Take that fella Whittington Montgomery-Thurston up the road. He's allus tellin' me wot a judge of 'orse flesh 'e was in the Old Country with 'is 'untin' and 'is 'ought to be, 'cause my brother-in-law knew 'im over there and 'e was a groom in some duke's stables and all the 'untin' 'e done was 'untin' fer a job. An' that girl of old Whateame's was the 'ill. She come home from London with a hacent you could cut with a crosscut saw and seems to think we don't remember 'er when she was playin' on the hooter 'edge of the railway tracks with 'er toes stickin' out of 'er shoes."

HARISTOCRACY! CONCLUDED Mr. Beak magnificently, "why the real haristocracy of these parts is the people wot was 'ere before the first whites came. You can see the real haristocrats shufflin' 'round town sometimes with handkerchiefs around their 'eads and a basket of clams on their backs. An' if you want to see the real First Families of Victoria you'll find 'em moved up to Cowichan Bay or on the reserve over to Hadmiral's Road. They live on clams in the good hold haristocratic way and 'ave a fishy smell about 'em. And there's somethin' fishy about the whole business of haristocracy in these parts," said Mr. Beak, walking off with a superior air and leaving Mr. Pudbury in melancholy disillusionment among his winter cabbages.

IN REPLY to my protest against starvation wages to janitors in the Parliament Buildings, it is stated that the government had to cut down on the janitors' wages. The answer to this is so obvious that I hardly feel called upon to make it. The answer is that if someone has to go on half time it should be the government and the Legislature, particularly the Legislature. I am prepared to argue and prove by mathematics, indeed, that it would be a tremendous economy in dollars and cents to pay the Legislature twice as much as it receives now on condition that it only came here once in two years and, preferably, once in four.

IF WE COULD keep the Legislature instead of the janitors on half time, all our expenses would be enormously reduced. The government, I know, would welcome it. Governments all ways loath legislatures and would much prefer to govern without them. They know, as I do, that they could govern much more cheaply if they didn't have forty-eight members demanding expenditures in their constituencies. Keep the Legislature away by all means and then let the government—not just this government, but any government—take a long holiday, too.

THE DEPUTY MINISTERS would run the country so economically that it would reduce taxes all at once. A contented janitor, able to maintain his family in comfort, is of greater economic and social value to the country than nine out of every ten of the Legislature's laws or government orders-in-council. For my part, if it came to a choice between good janitorial service and more legislation I wouldn't hesitate. The difference between a janitor and a legislator is that the former cleans up the dirt. The latter makes more of it.

Final Meeting Of Courtenay Council

Special to The Times

Courtenay, Jan. 6.—Action of the mayor and city clerk in the acceptance of the agreement with the provincial government in respect to public relief work, was endorsed by the city council at its session on Monday evening. Nothing but routine business was transacted.

A favorable report from the medical health officer, Dr. J. McKee, was received. Efficiency of the Courtenay electric service, which, during recent severe storms, has been maintained almost without interruption, was favorably commented on.

In order to allow prospective candidates to present their platform to the ratepayers, it was decided to hold a public meeting in the Gaisty Theatre on Wednesday, January 13. In thanking the aldermen for their cooperation during the last year, Mayor MacIntyre said that he hoped the city would always be as fortunate in having such men to serve.

Co-operative Plan For Mine Fails

Canadian Press

Drumheller, Alta., Jan. 6.—Definite failure of the plan to operate the Alberta Block Coal Company mine on a co-operative basis and ship coal at $2 a ton to Ontario and Pacific Coast points was accepted here to-day.

A meeting of the miners decided against the plan to take $1 a ton as their pay and allow the company $1 a ton to cover costs. Plans to operate the mine with alternating crews was also rejected, and the miners, out of work since the mine closed last week, will seek city relief.

HUNGRY TO BE FED BY GROUP
Food Centre Opened at 730 Pandora Ave., Under Direction of Capt. B. Gadsden

Serving Nourishing Food to Needy is Aim of Victoria Public Welfare Foundation

A group of zealous workers, headed by Capt. B. Gadsden, and organized under the name of Victoria Public Welfare Foundation, has opened a free dining-room at 730 Pandora Avenue. Delicious soup, bread and coffee are served to needy persons who are not connected with any other charity.

Capt. Gadsden, who unsuccessfully contested a seat on the City Council at the recent election, is responsible for the idea, and his sole purpose is to feed the hungry. All the materials, such as lumber, crockery, dishes, coal, food and vegetables, have been contributed.

Tables and benches made of new lumber fill two large rooms. The tables are attractively covered with flowered cloths. Each person served carries to his seat. Generous portions are served—a large bowl of soup, a cup of coffee and as much bread as desired. The quarters for housing the foundation were given by the city. The food is prepared in the cleanest and best manner possible; no greater care could be taken if it were prepared in private kitchens. The soup contains quantities of fresh vegetables and nourishing meats.

Capt. Gadsden said the scheme had met with enthusiastic support, and he feels assured that the work will fill a great need. "We ask no questions of anyone who comes in," Capt. Gadsden said yesterday. "Our only concern is to see that they are fed. Unsolicited contributions have come from many who are interested in the work and in relieving the suffering of the less fortunate. Our expenses are practically nil, and our establishment is so economically run that everything we receive is given to those who are in need."

A homelike atmosphere is created and a sincere welcome is given to all visitors.

The remainder were shipped from the Northern Manitoba mining town in 1930, following the opening of the smelter on November 21 of that year.

In addition to the production from the Flin Flon mine, 56 cars of concentrates were shipped to the smelter at Flin Flon by the Sherritt-Gordon Company, following the commencement of operations at Sherridon in April.

Four Greatest Women Of World Theme Of Talk

Professor Friend Day Gives Sketch of Great Historical Figures

Tells Women's Canadian Club Florence Nightingale's Contribution Most Valuable

An English queen, a Russian empress, a French republican, and the pioneer of modern nursing were selected by Professor Friend Day as the subject of his very interesting address to the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon. Professor Day is assistant professor in the department of economics and commerce at the University of British Columbia, and he brought to his discourse a keenly analytical appreciation of the varying contributions made to history by these women of four different centuries.

"THE VIRGIN QUEEN"

Queen Elizabeth was chosen as the subject of the first sketch, the speaker depicting her as perhaps the most purely English ruler. As the daughter of Henry the Eighth and Anne Boleyn and the god-daughter of Archbishop Cranmer, it was inevitable that she should become the principal factor in the revolt against Rome. During Mary's reign the internal persecutions brought by the Spanish inquisition caused to birth in Mary an intense national sentiment and on ascending the throne she developed a strong insular feeling, which remained through the whole of her long reign.

Professor Day described Elizabeth as masculine in temperament and barred from marriage by a physical defect. Recent exhaustive research into historical charges had vindicated her of the charges made against her morality and proved that she was a much-maligned woman. The Tudors, while being benevolent autocrats, had always sensed what the people wanted, but in Elizabeth's reign the people first began to show signs of growing beyond the stage of benevolent autocracy, and the first symptoms developed of what was to become a great national movement, leading ultimately to the Restoration.

CATHERINE THE GREAT

In the following century the most influential woman of her day was Catherine the Second of Russia, in the opinion of the speaker. Daughter of a Prussian general, her marriage to the then Grand Duke Peter at the age of sixteen years was a political alliance, aimed to unite Prussia and Russia and defeat Austrian machinations.

But from the day of her marriage she determined to be a Russian of the Russians and set herself to learn the language and study the people whom she was ultimately destined to rule. So well did she succeed in this ambition, that shortly after the coronation of her weak husband, to the throne, he was removed by proclamation and Catherine was declared Empress. Peter going into exile in Prussia, 1762 to 1796, Catherine ruled Russia with a hand of iron. A truly great queen, Catherine proved herself essentially a sovereign and a politician, guided in the line of her highest reasons of state, but she lived too long and developed into a tyrant and persecutor, in Professor Day's opinion.

A FRENCH REPUBLICAN

A Madame Jean Marie Roland, one of the French republican regime, was the speaker's third choice. Mme. Roland had been a precocious child and she had the whole gamut of religious beliefs from Romanism to Jensenism, afterwards becoming a stoic and Deist. A republican, she became the centre of republican activities in France, and through her influence her husband, a weak character, was made a minister in the Girondin cabinet.

As an illustration of the strength of Mme. Roland's character, Professor Day recalled that while in prison after being condemned to death by the very men whom she had helped to place in power, she wrote her memoirs and also started to read English history in order to improve her English. When taken to the guillotine to be executed she lifted her eyes to the statue of liberty and exclaimed: "O liberty, liberty, how many crimes are committed in thy name."

This French woman, Professor Day described as one who sowed the wind and reaped the whirlwind, for she set her charm to arouse the mob to overthrow the monarch, thus helping to establish the even greater tyranny which led to her own execution.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE

Florence Nightingale was the speaker's choice as the greatest woman of the last century, and he recalled her life and the sympathetic and humanitarian traits which afterwards led to her pioneering effort in the great cause of suffering humanity. He touched briefly upon her work in the Crimea, showing that whereas at the time of her arrival at the scene of war the percentage of deaths of the wounded was 42 per cent, after a few months of her efficient hospital administration the percentage of deaths dropped to 2 per cent. To thousands of soldiers in the Crimea she became known as the "Lady of the Lamp," and as such she had been immortalized by Longfellow in his poem.

MADE GREATEST CONTRIBUTION

"I have selected these four types of women, and while there is no common yardstick by which we can measure the attainment of people widely separated by years, nationality and opportunity, I venture to suggest that regardless of the greatness of a great figure and the greatness of the four women, Florence Nightingale made the greatest contribution to humanity and the advancement of the world," said Professor Day in conclusion.

Mrs. W. O. Wilson, the president, was in the chair, and Mrs. D. B. McConan tendered the thanks of the gathering to the speaker, Mrs. W. H. Wilson, who had been the first to suggest the subject of the talk. Mrs. W. H. Wilson, who had been the first to suggest the subject of the talk, was the first to suggest the subject of the talk.

Strawberry Vale Institute Closes Year Of Activity

The members of Strawberry Vale Women's Institute held their annual meeting at Corbitts Hall yesterday afternoon, with a good attendance. The panel of officers elected was as follows: Mrs. Harper, president; Mrs. D. Johnston, vice-president; Mrs. C. H. Williams and Mrs. Geo. Austin, directors; Mrs. R. M. Hall, secretary-treasurer.

The conveners of the various committees appointed were: Mrs. Harper, education and better schools; Mrs. Johnston, institute work and method; Mrs. Grouette, publicity and national events; Mrs. Huntington, industries; Mrs. Jones, home economics; Mrs. Humphries, child welfare; Mrs. Austin, agriculture; Mrs. Williams, League of Nations; Mrs. Foster, community betterment; Mrs. Hall, immigration, colonization and legislation. H. Huntington was asked to act as auditor.

HAD BUSY YEAR

The directors' annual report showed that the members have had a busy year. The activities comprised sale of home cooking, welfare work, both in this district and elsewhere. Several donations were made to various causes. Mrs. Johnston, vice-president, presided over the meeting. A successful community fair was held and a series of card parties maintained during the winter. The members also sent a quantity of the amount of business transacted during the year.

It was decided to co-operate with the other institutes in Sanich by contributing towards the purchase of a cup for the girls' basketball team in the Sanich and Suburbs Basketball League.

Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Williams consented to act as conveners for a social evening for members, their husbands and families, which was planned to take place on Tuesday, January 19, at Corbitts Hall. The supper arrangements are in the capable hands of these ladies and will be served at 6:30 p.m.

The secretary was instructed to send letters of regret in several cases of sickness, also New Year greetings to one of the oldest members who finds it inconvenient to be present at the meetings. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Austin served afternoon tea and a pleasant social half hour was enjoyed.

Initial Concert Of Junior Symphony Orchestra Friday

In presenting the Junior Symphony Orchestra on Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the High School auditorium, Harold Taylor, the conductor, and also the committee backing him and the children in their praiseworthy effort, bespeak a large and interested audience. This is the initial concert given by the youthful musicians, so an appropriate souvenir programme has been prepared, and it is hoped that with due encouragement from Victoria as a whole many other concerts will be given in the years to come, and that each in turn will show the steady improvement that comes with sincerity of effort.

Through the kindness of J. H. Fletcher, Mrs. J. O. Cameron and Mrs. J. Hebdon Gillespie will be selling tickets at this establishment to-morrow and Friday, and as these have been kept exceedingly low in price, a capacity house is assured. Those patronizing the concert are asked to note the early hour on behalf of the children and to be in their seats punctually.

A hay stacker and grain shock loader that can be operated by a farm tractor has been invented.

A dual-control motorcycle has been perfected in Germany for instruction of new riders.

Ever since the World War, Miss Woolley has been identified with organizations working for international peace. She is a member of the League of Nations Association, the World Alliance for Promoting International Friendship through the Churches, the American Society for the Judicial Settlement for International Disputes, and the League for Permanent Peace, as well as a number of other societies. Her personal contribution has been years of studying how to substitute international understanding in the place of armed forces between countries. She believes that every teacher, every mother, every person who deals with children and young folks, can do much to forward international peace by their very attitudes and their teachings.

WORKS FOR WORLD UNDERSTANDING

In her work as president of Mt. Holyoke, Dr. Woolley practices this doctrine of "understanding." Last summer 250 people from all over the world met at her college for a conference of the International Students' Service. Dr. Woolley personally greeted them all.

In the little town of South Hadley where Mt. Holyoke is situated, her community interests are very strong, and each year the college joins the village in celebrating Memorial Day.

Personally, this learned woman, the first woman graduate of Brown, the owner of at least seven degrees, and when appointed the youngest woman ever to be a college president, is very approachable. Though sixty-seven, she does not look her age, has no gray in her dark hair, is of more than medium height, carries herself with great dignity, and has the vigor that an out-of-doors person possesses.

When at home she lives simply in the spacious house that looks out to the wooded hills of Mt. Tom, which she loves.

Dr. Woolley, before coming to Mt. Holyoke thirty-one years ago, was a professor at Wellesley College. She has received honorary degrees from several colleges, and has headed or been on committees of so many associations that it takes a half column in Who's Who to list them all.

Her interest in peace made her an ardent supporter of President Wilson during the World War. Since then she has made trips to Europe and the Far East, with a solution to war ever in her mind. Her friends describe her as a "theoretical pacifist." Her views are strongly for disarmament, but she could not by the slightest chance be classified as a "radical."

The appointment of Dr. Woolley as a delegate to Disarmament Conference of the League of Nations is the first appointment a woman has ever had to a major diplomatic conference as an official representative.

Many Donations Cheered Hearts Of Aged Women

Thanks to the generosity of interested friends of the institution, the inmates of the Home for Aged and Infirm Women spent a very happy Christmas season, much entertainment and cheer making December a red-letter month for them. It was reported at the monthly meeting of the ladies' committee yesterday afternoon.

The committee went on record as having a deep debt of gratitude to Joseph North for the interest he has always taken in arranging outings and treats for the inmates. In view of the present business conditions the committee has decided that no more contributions are to be solicited from merchants and transportation companies, as the inmates are well cared for and entertained.

Among the various entertainments arranged for the inmates during December was the delightful concert given on December 14 by St. John's A.Y.F.A., after which the young people served refreshments. December 17 the Victoria Women's Institute were hostesses to the inmates, the programme being given by the members of the Orana Madrigal Club, the members of the institute providing refreshments. December 22, First Victoria Rangers, with Capt. Aline Stewart-Williams and Lieut. Helen Lindsay as leaders, gave a splendid programme of songs and drills, after which the young folk served refreshments and chatted with the ladies. December 19 the Victoria Musical Arts Society entertained the inmates at the Shrine Hall to a Christmas tree, concert and tea, which needless to say was much enjoyed by all who were able to attend.

Mrs. J. L. Clay, the president, took the chair for the meeting, others present being Mesdames L. A. Gould, William Grant, F. W. Vincent, E. Heddie, Harold Grant, D. C. Sabiston, A. D. Whittier and Miss O'Brien. Mesdames Heddie, H. Grant and Vincent will be the committee for January.

Your Baby and Mine

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

MOTHERS READILY RESORT TO BOTTLES AND FORMULAS

The greatest privilege a mother can enjoy is the ability to nurse her baby successfully. Mothers do appreciate the privilege and sometimes find that they cannot accept it. When the mother recognizes that her baby is failing to gain, is unhappy and restless and hungry, she is ready to turn to bottles and formulas as the solution of her difficulties. She honestly and sincerely believes that she has made the effort and failed, and she sees red. However, she needs that practically every mother can nurse her baby if she chooses to do so.

HAVE ABILITY

The trouble is that both wishing and trying are ineffectual unless the mother has been given practical information on how to improve the breast supply. One does not doubt that mothers do try, nor does one doubt their sincere desire to be successful nurses. We must attribute their failure to lack of knowledge, but not to lack of ability to be successful nurses if they had that knowledge.

Breast feeding is easy for some mothers. They have a plentiful supply, they have a hungry baby who makes large demands upon that supply, and the result is successful. But mothers give up too easily. They are too anxious about every slight deviation from normal. They are convinced that a large breast and a good milk supply are synonymous, which fact is not true. They are inclined to put too much faith in testings of breast milk, breast milk which differs at all hours of the day and even during any particular nursing. The safest criterion of good milk is how well it nourishes the baby.

MISINFORMATION

Mothers are filled with much misinformation about nursing, chief of which seems to be that substituting a bottle for a nursing will "save" the milk for the next feeding. This is the beginning of weaning, and the mother discovers she has embarked on this plan that she has less and less milk until baby eventually has to be weaned.

She has the idea that if she drinks copiously of water, milk, tea and gruels that she will have an abundant supply of milk. She often discovers that she herself puts on pounds and pounds of flesh and baby is as hungry as ever.

THE ANSWER

The answer to it all is that while a good nourishing diet does influence the amount of breast milk moderately, while a placid mind and the ability to get enough rest influence the supply moderately, the supply of breast milk is chiefly influenced by the purely mechanical stimulus of a baby's vigorous nursing.

A healthy infant, eating at regular periods all through the day and draining the breast each time, will stimulate a good supply of milk, and this will increase with his demands. The usual reasons for a diminishing supply, before deciding to stop nursing, let the mother make herself aware of the natural way in which she can increase her supply. My leaflet, "Information for Nursing Mothers," explains in detail the proper technique of breast feeding. Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request for it to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

"Yes," replied Culbertson, "but I was the fellow who went out and found them." Oswald Jacoby was among the "Kibitzers" for the first time in several nights. He said he was looking for a chess game. He was Lens's partner until several nights ago when he quit after a storm of reciprocal criticism. While he was present Lens and Lags made two little slams which they failed to bid.

"Maybe my psychics were bad," he said, shaking his head, "but see that?—slams on bids of three!" "I'm sorry, My," Gottlieb said at end of the losing session. "Sorry," exclaimed Culbertson, "you played a beautiful game, Mike."

New York, Jan. 6.—Bridge was a potent attraction yesterday evening at Ely Culbertson and Sidney Lens approached the end of their 150-rubber contract match at the Waldorf-Astoria.

One young lady in an evening dress sprawled on the floor in order to peek through the screen that guards the players. Another "Kibitzer," at least six inches taller than the screen, stuck his head over it.

The lady kibitzer's escort was much dismayed.

"My dear," he whispered, "your dignity!"

"What's the matter?" asked the young lady. "Nobody is stepping on it." She stuck to the spot.

A dozen others had their eyes glued to the screen cracks. Most of them were feminine and odds were given that they were looking all the while at Culbertson's new partner, Michael T. Gottlieb, young broker, who has wavy black hair.

Gottlieb was welcome to veteran "Let's get going" Lens. He played his cards fast.

"We should have had this fellow in the game all along," Lens said, "then

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

JRMILLIAMS

Heart Hungry

By LAURA LOU BROOKMAN
AUTHOR OF "WASH ROMANCE"

© 1932 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

Celia bit her lip. She could not understand why but she knew from that moment that she must never make remarks about her mother to John Mitchell. It frightened her and then after a moment the right turned to slow anger. She could not yet think of Mitchell as her father. He was an interloper with whom, for her mother's sake, she must be patient.

When the waiter had cleared away the dishes Mitchell reached into a pocket of his vest and drew forth a small white packet.

Celia lifted startled eyes.

"Open it," Mitchell repeated. "It's something I hoped you might like."

"Oh—how beautiful!"

The little cry was involuntary. She lay a white gold watch with a tiny watch face on one side. Surrounding the watch was an elaborate setting of diamonds and rubies. The gems were exquisite.

"Try it on," Mitchell suggested. "If the size isn't right we'll have it altered."

"It's lovely!" Celia said softly. "I've never seen anything so pretty in my whole life." She gazed at the jewels, fascinated.

"Put it on!" the man urged. The girl raised her head.

"You mean—it's for me?"

"Of course."

"But I couldn't take it—"

"Nonsense. Of course you can take it. It's yours. Every girl needs a watch. I want you to have it so that you won't miss that train Saturday."

It was a heavy effort at humor but for John Mitchell it was an impressive one.

Still Celia shook her head.

"No," she said. "I can't take it."

"But why not? I bought it for you. I want you to wear it. Celia—couldn't you do that much for your father?"

For an instant her eyes met. Then, with conflicting emotions, Celia lifted the wrist watch from the box and slipped it over her slender wrist. The flashing stones nearly took her breath as she fastened the clasp.

"It fits perfectly," inspected the arm she extended. He fingered the clasp to be sure it was tight enough.

"Sure it's all right?"

"Oh, it's beautiful! I think it's lovely—and I don't know how to thank you for it!"

"H'm! Never mind. I hope it will keep time all right," Mitchell's voice was careless again.

Celia could not keep her eyes from the gleaming bracelet. Diamonds and rubies! They sparkled and danced, caught reflected rays from one another, gaining double brightness.

Impulsively the girl raised her arm and laid the bracelet carelessly against her cheek.

She heard Mitchell speaking in a strained voice.

"I'll try to remember—father," she said.

The word had never really held meaning to Celia before. Other girls of course, had fathers. But Margaret Rogers had been both father and mother to her child. Margaret was everything. Again Celia had the feeling that John Mitchell was an interloper. It was going to be difficult pretending otherwise.

"It's time to go now, isn't it?" she asked in a low voice.

"Can't be late yet. What time is it?"

She glanced meaningfully at her wrist bearing the new watch bracelet. Celia's cheeks flushed.

"Oh—I forgot! You see I'm not used to wearing a watch." She studied the tiny dial.

"Mother will be expecting me."

They rose and left the dining-room. As soon as they had their wraps a uniformed attendant summoned a taxicab. Celia was impressed by Mitchell's ceremonious manner as he helped her into the vehicle.

"Good night," he said formally. "I shall see you again to-morrow, I hope."

"Good night," Celia told him. The dinner was lovely—and the watch! She felt about taking it. Only I do think you ever so much!"

She slipped her hand into his and for the first time John Mitchell saw her smile naturally. It was Celia's instinctive kindness triumphing over doubts and despair.

"Good night—father," she said as she disappeared behind the closing door.

Margaret Rogers was bending over her mending basket as Celia entered the flat a few seconds later. She looked up anxiously.

"Well, you're home early! I hope you had a nice time."

The girl nodded her head.

"Look!" she demanded, holding out the arm on which gleamed the wrist watch.

"Oh! How beautiful! Come nearer and let me look at it!"

Celia presented the wrist at close range. The fire of the diamonds clashed with the rubies' radiance until the electricity of the watch.

"By said I should take it, mother. I didn't think I ought to—" Celia began.

"But, my child, why not? Of course you should take it. I hope you didn't hurt your father's feelings. It's a beautiful gift."

"Of course it is. I know that but—mother, don't you see? How can I have lovely things like this and go away to New York and spend lots of money when you're living here like this?"

"Everything is so expensive tonight! All through dinner that's all I could think about. It isn't right. I don't see why he doesn't take your perfect—"

"Sit down, Celia," Margaret Rogers drew the girl down beside her on the davenport. Her great eyes were fixed on Celia's wrist.

"I need while you are away. You are never to worry about me for a minute. Remember that. And you must promise me never to suggest what you have just said—to your father. It is completely out of the question! You must understand that!"

To Stop Pensions To Widows Of Civic Employees

Quebec, Jan. 6.—It was announced at the city hall yesterday that the payments of pensions to widows of former civic employees would be discontinued. These pensions, which are paid for a period of ten years, are made up from a fund subscribed to by city workers and has for the past decade been supervised by the city. In commenting on the discontinuance of the scheme, Mayor H. Lavigne said to-day that re-adoption of the plan would mean an expenditure of between $100,000 and $125,000.

LENZ IS HAPPY AFTER REDUCING CULBERTSON LEAD

Has Had Edge on Points Since Liggett Became His Bridge Partner

By TOM O'NEIL

New York, Jan. 6.—Sidney S. Lenz was happier to-day, although on the verge of apparently certain defeat. In the rubbers in which Commander Winfield Liggett has sat opposite him in place of Oswald Jacoby, resigned, the plus of Lenz's side in the great contract bridge match was 2,665 with thirteen rubbers left to play.

"Eight more rubbers yesterday evening, of which Lenz and Liggett won six, only intensified the general expectation of neutrals that Ely Culbertson will win handily. The match ends Friday night. There will be no session to-night and Howard Schenker will be Culbertson's partner to-morrow night."

The Culbertson plus was reduced yesterday evening by 2,665 to 14,175. The rubbers won by the seventy-five for Culbertson and sixty-four for Lenz, and the total points 116,320 and 102,148 respectively.

For the first time in the match Culbertson had a partner who failed to contribute to the plus of his side. He was Michael Gottlieb, New York really broker, a tall, handsome youth whom Culbertson regards as a star of his team of "string beans." Both Ted Lightner and Waldemar von Zedtwitz, previous partners, are tall and thin.

Gottlieb played brilliantly on the defensive, but Lenz and Liggett had big cards of which they failed to take full advantage. The only little slam of the session was made by Culbertson. Lenz and Liggett each could have made one without trouble. Gottlieb made several psychic bids that made minor trouble for Culbertson and Culbertson made one himself that kept his opponents out of game.

On hand, 789 Culbertson commented that an opening three bid under Lenz's system shut out alarm, contracting. Liggett contracted for four spades and made six. The hand:

Liggett (south)

Hearts—K
Diamonds—K 5
Clubs—K 4 3

The bidding: West pass. North pass. East opened one spade. South passed. North four spades, all pass. Culbertson led the four of diamonds.

TIMID HIDING
Twice Liggett took six tricks over book on bare game bids in major suits. Another time on such a contract he took all the tricks. Lenz once contracted for four in a major suit and took six. In one of these cases the slam depended on a lucky break.

Lenz had big cards. In one rubber he had 100 honors. On slams he made, but failed to bid, we could have been set. We have had fair cards for the last two days and Liggett and I are considerably ahead of the match as we play it.

Culbertson commented: "Opponents had bodies of extra honors, especially kings, and they played very well. My partner was positively brilliant and I, for once played a perfect game, not having anything to bid or play with. I indulged in a series of elegant and brilliant passes, for to me the subtle art of passing is the 'nth' degree of bridge."

FRANCAIS PARTNER
Culbertson praised Gottlieb for brilliant playing, but he said he sighed for better distribution in preference to excellent playing in deliberate acts.

Lenz commented on the session: "We had some very nice hands. Mr. Culbertson had a slam in the last rubber in which he found all the face cards waiting for him. We had to work for everything we were. On slams we made, but failed to bid, we could have been set. We have had fair cards for the last two days and Liggett and I are considerably ahead of the match as we play it."

"He won't do it!" barked Percival. Grafter said nothing but winked one eye. Then he went to the woods and Percival followed. Just as Uncle Wiggily came hopping along the last old dog had built a fire in the woods. Over the fire he hung a kettle of water and when Mr. Longears drew near Grafter put in the water a paw full of old, dried leaves.

"What in the world are you doing?" asked the rabbit.

"Making leaf soup," answered Grafter, never smiling.

"Leaf soup?" cried Mr. Longears. "Why, I shouldn't think that would be very good or keep you from being hungry."

"Well, leaf soup is all I have," sadly said Grafter. "Of course it would be better if I had a pinch of salt for it."

"Oh, I'll get you a little salt. There's no harm in that," said Uncle Wiggily; so he hopped back to his bungalow and got it.

Horoscope

THURSDAY, JANUARY 7, 1932

Astrologers read this as rather an uncertain day—a time for making assurance doubly sure before taking any sort of risk. While this confirmation prevails the sea should bring to Canadians increase of commerce and much profitable trade. There should be a decided change of thought on political problems and religious issues.

The day is fairly fortunate for women and their social ambitions. Although it is read as not promising for girls who seek employment the stars seem to forecast pleasure in the home circle.

Correlations will raise in general interest but there is an aspect indicating fraud and deception among demonstrators. The evening of the day may bring disappointment to men of large ambitions, for much dissatisfaction is foreshadowed among political leaders.

MUSIC BOARD CHANGES NAME

An advice has just been received from London that the name of the Associated Board of the Royal Academy of Music and the Royal College of Music has been changed, to take effect from the beginning of 1932, to "the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music, London (the Royal Academy of Music and the Royal College of Music)."

U.S. BY-ELECTION
Manchester, N.H., Jan. 6.—William N. Rogers, anti-prohibition Democrat, was elected to the seat in the United States Congress made vacant by the death of Representative Fletcher Hale, Republican, of the first New Hampshire district, defeating former Governor John F. Bartlett, Republican, 27,493 to 24,565.

One of Canada's most widely exported products is canned salmon, which finds a market in nearly 100 countries.

WILLIAM POWELL AT DOMINION IN TROPICAL STORY

"The Road to Singapore" is an enthralling story and also stars Doris Kenyon.

"The Road to Singapore" is now at the Dominion Theatre with William Powell in the starring role, is a darkly glamorous melodrama of the tropics which gives the actor ample opportunity to display his unique talents.

Powell is a past master in the subtle art of making imperfect characters interesting and sympathetic. A less able actor would not have dared play the role of Hugh Dawltry in a story dealing so frankly with fundamentals, but in his experienced hands the picture turns out to be one of the high spots of the current season.

Set in Kholo in Ceylon and played with an accompaniment of tomtoms and weird native ceremonials, "The Road to Singapore" is the story of the love of two men with one woman, Dr. March, played with exceptional skill by Louis Calhern, a new recruit in pictures from the New York stage, brings his bride to the tropical settlement and promptly proceeds to neglect her in the rush of his professional duties.

Smarting under this inattention and spurred on by the tropical intensity of the life about her, Phillips, the bride, played by Doris Kenyon, finds solace in the person of Hugh Dawltry, the colony's never-do-well, who has previously proved himself fascinating to women as he is objectionable to men.

Miss Kenyon proves to be lovelier with each succeeding appearance on the screen. Her comeback to talking pictures is making history. Miss March, a young actress of great promise in earlier roles, comes into this picture with more confidence and with flower-like beauty and ability.

Paul Lukas Coming To Capitol Monday

"Strictly Dishonorable," the most poignant, provocative comedy yet to reach the talking screen, is to be shown at the Capitol, starting Monday next.

This presentation was assured yesterday, when Manager Denham of the Capitol Theatre completed arrangements for playing Universal's brilliant screenplay adapted from one of the most successful plays seen in New York within the past decade. The cast of the picture is headed by Paul Lukas whom Universal borrowed from Paramount, Sidney Fox and Lewis Stone.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Behind the story of one of the greatest injustices ever visited on man is a romance that transcends in beauty the love that Alfred Dreyfus bore for his wife, his children, and his country, bore despite years of separation from his family and the worst humiliation and degradation a country can give one of its subjects and the worst suffering imprisonment on Devil's Island could conceive of for a traitor! A traitor who was innocent!

The tremendous heart-tearing, soul-clutching, inspiring drama of Capt. Dreyfus is told in "The Dreyfus Case," shown at the Empire Theatre. It's a British International Picture Limited presentation with Cedric Hardwicke giving a magnificent performance as Dreyfus. It is hard to believe that Hardwicke is not really Dreyfus, so great is the physical likeness and accurately has he caught the spirit of the great martyr. Beatrix Thomson beautifully portrays the wife whose love for her husband never wavered and who would not let the world forget her husband's cry, "I am innocent!"

ROMANO THEATRE

Though Lew Ayres, at the age of twenty-two, is now very slender, he was such a pudgy youngster in his early boyhood that he was known as "Fat" Ayres. Lew's debut as a screen star was signaled in "Iron Man." Now his nickname is "The Boy Wonder." His second starring picture is "Up for Murder," which is now playing an engagement at the Romano Theatre.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

With but one priceless chair from old Independence, a model, Western Bro. drapery department was able on short order to build six more so like it that even experts had to look closely to tell which was antique and which was modern. These chairs appear in a scene in "Alexander Hamilton," with George Arliss in the title role, now at the Columbia Theatre. The copies were completed and on the set thirty-six hours after the original was received.

Seven Players Are Let Go By Detroit

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 6.—Release of seven players who have worn Tiger uniforms during the past two years was announced yesterday by President Frank J. Navin of the Detroit Baseball Club.

Harvey Walker, outfielder, will be sent on option to Toronto of the International League, which also gets Frank Doljack and Tommy Hughes, outfielders. Henry Greenberg, first baseman, and Tom Holley, infielder, are released outright to Beaumont of the Texas League, while Ivy Silver, first baseman, and Charley Sullivan, pitcher, will be sent to Montreal of the International League.

"Adventurous Age" Closing To-night At Royal Victoria

"This Woman Business" Will Be Attraction For Remainder of Week

For the last time this evening the British Guild Players will present "The Adventurous Age," a brilliant comedy which was played in London with great success by Mrs. Patrick Campbell.

Since the first performance of this play they have received nothing but high praise for the manner in which they are presenting their series of plays. The company is a very capable one and there is no doubt that the theatre-goers of Victoria, who have already witnessed their first efforts are more than pleased with the results.

"The Adventurous Age" might be termed a play for driving away the blues as there is one continual ripple of laughter from beginning to end. Commencing Thursday the company will present for the first time in this city "This Woman Business," another comedy by Ben Levy which, by all accounts, will outshine the success already scored by their initial offering.

GERMAN GOLD COVERAGE DOWN
Berlin, Jan. 6.—The Reichsbank coverage dropped to 24.2 December 31, compared with 25.6 the previous week.

"The Dreyfus Case" Here Until Friday

Owing to the great interest shown in the British International picture "The Dreyfus Case," the Empire management has decided to hold this attraction over until Friday. Originally booked for six days it has earned such general commendation among Victorians that it will be extended two days more and will run continuously from 1 to 11 p.m. daily.

Following this another British masterpiece will take the Empire screen in "The Chinese Bungalow" in which Matheson Lang will appear. It will be remembered how great a success this stage play was when played here about three years ago, the Royal Victoria Theatre being packed to capacity on each occasion. This production is one of the most beautiful films to come from a British studio and is of a wholly lavish scale than the stage version. The supporting cast includes Jill Emond Moore, daughter of a great acting family and now a rising Hollywood star with Ruth Chatterton. "The Chinese Bungalow" will run for six days, starting Saturday.

CHIROPRACTORS RECOGNIZED IN U.S., TUTOR SAYS

Dean of Palmer School Advocates Board of Chiropractors For Examining Group

Vancouver, Jan. 6.—Thirty-two states of the United States have legalized chiropractors and in all but two of them practitioners are examined by a board composed of members of that profession. From the successful control in these states, Dr. Alfred B. Hender, dean of the Palmer School of Chiropractic, Davenport, Iowa, argues British Columbia chiropractors are only asking for justice when they demand examination by a board consisting of members of their own profession.

Dr. Hender, who is a graduate physician and surgeon as well as a chiropractor, will leave Vancouver Thursday after waiting here since November 15 to give evidence before the often adjourned public investigation into the hearing was further adjourned until Monday, February 1, owing to illness of the commissioner.

Whether or not he will return to Vancouver when the investigation continues is doubtful. He has spent a good deal of time but is philosophic about it.

TWO BOYS LIVE ON CLAMS LIKE RUSSIAN WAIFS

Judge Hears of Primitive Existence of Youths at Sidney, B.C.

How two boys have been living in the highways in and around Sidney, B.C., like the waifs of the early post-war days of Russian cities, was described before Judge Lampman to-day by P. J. Sinnott, as counsel, in pleading for mercy for one of the boys, who had been caught and pleaded guilty to breaking into the Macdonald estate house.

The other boy, who was also caught breaking in, escaped the police and made good a get-out to San Juan Island, the court was informed.

"The case of these two boys is most distressing," said Mr. Sinnott. "Owing to hard times the mother of this boy, who is his only parent, has been supporting herself by doing domestic work. This boy and his companion, whose position is practically the same, have been engaged in the very primitive business of digging clams. They have no place as home, just living a very primitive life in boxes or old shacks wherever they happen to be. This boy, who is a native of this city, was a temptation to them to use as shelter. They did not take anything. To commit them to the industrial home with hardened prisoners."

R. A. Wootton, prosecutor, urged that the best place for two such boys was the industrial home. He declared that for the last two years they had been around Sidney, their only living being digging clams.

The judge adjourned the case until Friday when he will give judgment.

PROSPECT FOR COMING YEAR UNDER REVIEW

Real Estate Board of Victoria Told of Outlook For 1932

Ex-Presidents Say Economy and Caution Will Bring Better Times

The business outlook for Victoria was reviewed this afternoon before the Real Estate Board of Victoria by several past presidents of the board at a luncheon held at the Sandringham Cafe. The messages ranged from cautious to optimistic, but all were confident that, with careful administration, the city would show a more speedy recovery from the world depression than would be experienced by many other Pacific Coast communities.

Alsterman P. R. Brown, president in 1923, said the coming year could not witness continuance of past spending methods. The city's expenses would have to be reduced and a balanced budget produced. In the course of the housecleaning many unpopular policies would be involved and he appealed for support for the council in its effort to economize.

HIGH TAX COLLECTION

James Forman, president in 1924, said "Victoria's collection of 88 per cent of the tax levy showed the city to be in a favorable position compared with other cities. He urged care that no impression be allowed to get abroad which would suggest the city was in severe difficulties. Such financial problems as had arisen were the result of unforeseen circumstances beyond civic control. From the choice residential standpoint Victoria had no rival and its future was assured."

Joseph C. Bridgman, president in 1925, said little prospect of real estate activity existed for 1932. Rising taxation was in the way of building activity and confidence would not be restored until increased taxation was checked. He was critical of the restrictions first imposed on unemployment relief by the federal government, the insistence on union wage scales being burdensome to municipalities.

W. Wolfenden, president in 1927, declined to forecast conditions for the coming year but hoped the messages of political leaders would be the result of living in the process of recovery that readjustment was a much greater factor than anything else.

He predicted that the various government bodies, estate planning, and as a result improvement would be imperceptible in many quarters, the future was going on.

LAND SETTLEMENT

Mr. Nicholas believed that efforts to settle large numbers of families on the land, where they could make comfortable homes, would be productive of prosperity. Every depression of the past had been followed by large movements of population to new territory and Canada could offer great inducements to settlers.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY

A forecast was made that the Republican party would be defeated in the United States elections to be held in November, when the Hoover administration would be ousted. Mr. Smith or Newton D. Baker, the latter being probably acceptable as a compromise candidate. If the Democrats were victorious they would at once reduce the tariff and that course would have a tendency to cause similar reductions by other countries, resulting in great stimulation of international trade.

In France the impending election would have important results on the questions of reparations and war debts. If France insisted payment of its unpaid reparations to Germany, the situation of Germany's commercial obligations would arise. Mr. Nicholas believed this problem would be disposed of at the reparations conference to be held this month.

The elections to be held in Prussia shortly were fraught with consequences of importance to the rest of the world. If the Nationalist element should obtain control of the reins of government there would be an end to payment of reparations by Germany. France, might then be forced to sue for peace and the whole system of international debt payments would come to an end. The speaker doubted whether the payment of reparations and international war debts would long continue in any event.

Mr. Mathews has represented the Scottish Students' Association as an honorary consultant for Vancouver for several years. He has been reappointed for another term under the enlarged system.

FRAUD CHARGE IS WITHDRAWN

In City Police Court this morning a charge against Lionel C. Bywaters of obtaining money by false pretences was withdrawn and the prosecution dropped.

Mr. Bywaters was alleged to have obtained $100 by false pretences from Reginald, reported missing from her home at 837 North Park Street.

On receipt of information late yesterday evening that Mr. Bywaters was an authorized representative of the company at the time of the alleged offence, withdrawal of the charge was decided. Restitution had been made.

B. C. Nicholas Reviews World Prospects For 1932 Before Kiwanis Club

Land Settlement on Big Scale By Home-seekers Suggested For Canada

Belief that Canada would be one of the earliest of the nations to recover from the world depression was voiced yesterday afternoon by B. C. Nicholas, before the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel. Speaking on "The Year 1932," Mr. Nicholas said Canada possessed many advantages in natural resources which would be of great importance in aiding her way to early enjoyment of prosperity.

Canada had a population which was law abiding and enterprising, and had room for ten times its present number of inhabitants. There were also the great advantages of being neighbor to one of the richest countries in the world and of being a partner in the British Commonwealth.

Mr. Nicholas remarked that, irrespective of the pessimistic views of the pessimists, the world was already in the process of convalescence, in the sense that the general public were readjusting themselves to new standards of living. In the process of recovery that readjustment was a much greater factor than anything else.

He predicted that the various government bodies, estate planning, and as a result improvement would be imperceptible in many quarters, the future was going on.

Lawyer Explains Slighting Court; Bride Is Cause

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Jan. 6.—O. L. Fraser, one of the Vancouver lawyers who were criticized by justices of the B.C. Court of Appeal at its session in Victoria yesterday, has an important reason for his desire not to appear before the court until next week.

Following what was said by the justices regarding the habit lawyers have fallen into of slighting the highest court in the province and taking it for granted, Mr. Fraser explained that he is to be married on Friday evening to Miss Yvonne Dreyfus of Vancouver.

"This is the personal matter," advised by Cleve White of Victoria to the court as the reason why Mr. Fraser desired that cases in which he was counsel be set for hearing later.

TREATY SHOULD IMPROVE TRADE

Develop Great Volume of Trade Between Canada and Australia, Says P. B. Jenkin

Sees Tremendous Field For Imperial! Economic Conference at Ottawa This Year

Under the trade treaty negotiating between Canada and Australia the two countries should be in a position to multiply their trade, according to Perry B. Jenkin, of The Melbourne Herald and associated newspapers, who is in the city to-day en route home by the S.S. Niagara, which sails this evening for Sydney.

Mr. Jenkin has been touring Canada in the role of inter-Dominion business builder and he has made a thorough study of trade opportunities. There is a tremendous field for the Imperial Economic Conference scheduled for this year at Ottawa, he thinks.

MINIMIZE POLITICS

"Bring out the facts, deal with them on a business basis, and minimize politics," Mr. Jenkin advises in speaking of the approaching conference. "There should be an inventory of the Empire. Find out what products each country can trade in to the best advantage, and to accommodate those goods."

Australia will be ably represented at the Ottawa conference, he believes. The Commonwealth has been swept by a wave of confidence following the recent general elections which returned to power the United Australia party under Premier Joseph A. Lyons.

Australia has put itself on a strong basis financially, and the people have renewed confidence, Mr. Jenkin says. Proof of this was found when under the Scullin government the country put through a gigantic domestic loan of $556,000,000 (equal to $2,600,000,000 with exchange at par). The people voluntarily subscribed 98 per cent of the conversion of their holdings and the total operation represents half the total national debt. It means a saving to Australia of $85,000,000 interest charges yearly, because under the new issue interest rates have been cut from 6 to 4½ per cent. When people voluntarily sacrifice $150 a hundred on their interest returns for the sake of national stability, they believe in their country, he contends.

In the opinion of Mr. Jenkin, Canada and Australia are to-day in a position to build up an enormous volume of trade.

SUPPLY NEEDS

"Canada can supply Australia with all the lumber she needs, while Australia can supply Canada most, if not all, the dried fruit she needs," he said. Australia sells Canada 7,000 tons a year of its total of 20,000 tons of imported dried fruits, and might just as well double that amount. The products that Australia supplies to Canada include dried fruits, canned pineapples, and other fruits not grown in this country, oranges, fruit juices, wines, sugar, hardwoods and wool.

The products sold by Canada to Australia include lumber, newsprint, canned salmon, automobiles, electrical machinery, radios and radio equipment.

SAVE ON WOOL

Trade technique can be improved to the advantage of both countries, Canada buys Australian wool through Boston, Mass., paying at present a 20 per cent premium on United States funds plus the freight carrying charge into Canada, could be saved by buying direct and bringing the wool into Canada via the British Columbia route. All such savings, on the volume of business increases, he believes, up to two years ago Canada was selling Australia $5,000,000 worth of goods for every $1,000,000 worth of goods from Australia. To-day the trade figures just about balance and the nearer equality it can be increased on both sides, the more lasting it should be.

Dollar-for-dollar trade between the two countries should be the objective under the new Canadian-Australian treaty.

Bill Cook fails to show signs of Long Battle in Pro Hockey

Continues to Set Pace for N.H.L. Snipers; Leading Right-winger

Fonseca, Carey and Gibson Take on Tough Jobs in Major Baseball

Scottish Footballers Seek Revenge for Defeat by Austrians

THE WEAR and tear of years of action in the professional hockey wars has failed to dim the lustre of Bill Cook, elder of the brothers who combine with Frankie Boucher to give the New York Rangers what is generally acknowledged as the finest forward line in the National Hockey League. Bill has reached an age where most major hockey players are on the decline and are keeping one eye peeled for a relief signal from the bench, but not so with the flashy New York right winger. At the time of writing Cook was in a three-way tie with Hooley Smith, Montreal Maroons, and Joe Primeau, Toronto Maple Leafs, for the scoring leadership in the N.H.L. All three have twenty-one points to their credit.

Cook has defied the ravages of time and if he has lost some of his speed there are few who have noticed it. Equipped with a liberal amount of grey matter and more than one man's share of skating ability, he continues to set the scoring pace for the remainder of the big league snipers. He's the ideal type of professional hockey player, one that can execute any play in hockey and do it with a flourish that thrills the crowd.

And more than that, he's a vital cog in a forward line that makes combination the keynote of its attack; has speed, brains and a wide open eye. In fact he has everything that a right-winger needs unless it be a centre ice man and playmaker of the calibre of Frankie Boucher. With another team Bill Cook would still be a star with his brother Bunny, but it is doubtful if either would have achieved such heights without the aid of Boucher, perhaps the smartest centre ice player since Frank Nighbor was in his prime.

With major league baseball teams for next year being reviewed and their possible line-ups for the 1932 season talked over it is a good time to draw notice to the three new managers who will make their debuts in the American and National Leagues. When Joe Fonseca accepted the job as manager of the Chicago White Sox his friends consoled with him. Former managers of the Sox have had the habit of not lasting for any length of time. But Joe is not the only man to whom such a kindly warning might be given.

Take over in Brooklyn, for instance, or in Pittsburgh. Max Carey of the Robins and George Gibson of the unpractical Pirates are in tough spots. To put it in another way, the jobs of managing the White Sox, Pirates and Robins are just like sitting on a throne which consists of a saddle fastened to the spikes of a bucking bronco. Wars have a habit of breaking out suddenly between the office and bench in these baseball clubs. Sudden disturbances have unsettled such good men as Kid Gleason, "Patsy" Rowland, John Evers, Eddie Collins, Ray Schalk, Lena Blackburne, Donie Bush, Bill McKechnie, Jewel Egan and Wilbert Robinson.

Strangely Fonseca, Carey and Gibson have felt these shocks before and each time have come up whole. Fonseca has been given the same job here and there in his eleven-year baseball career. After a disturbance in 1920 in San Francisco, he took up the task of managing an outcast club. Later on, when he was let loose by Cincinnati, Carey served Pittsburgh for fifteen years and was then sold to Brooklyn for the waiver price in 1926. George Gibson, at Pittsburgh, like Carey has enjoyed the distinction of being put out by the Pirates once before. After starting for years as a catcher for Pittsburgh he severed his connections in 1916 to become a coach with the New York Giants.

Stinging under the defeat handed them in Vienna, when the Austrian team defeated a weakened international eleven 5 to 0, the Scottish Football Association has offered the Austrian team a $5,000 guarantee for an international game in Glasgow in April. However, the Austrians have refused the April date, as a visit then would interfere with their league schedule. In return they have made an offer to come to Scotland this month, when they will open a tour embracing matches in France and Germany. A match such as this would draw close to 100,000 in Glasgow. A number of English football critics recently picked the Austrians as the most likely team to challenge England's supremacy in the world of football.

Jim Londos Wins Over MacDougall

Kola Kvarian took the semifinal by disposing of Jim Corrigan with a body squeeze in 15.40. Cy Williams tossed Bill Luckoff in 17.15 with a flying tackle. Rudy Dusek and Mike Romano wrestled to a thirty-minute draw as did Tom Marvin and Martin Johnson.

Toronto, Jan. 6.—Apparently tired of their showing in their last ten appearances, during which time they failed to hang up a single victory, Eddie Gerard's skidding New York Americans astounded the hockey world yesterday evening when they stepped into Montreal and handed the world champion Canadiens a 2-to-1 overtime reverse.

WINDSOR AND LONDON TAKE MINOR GAMES

Two Canadian Clubs Improve Positions in International Hockey League.

Former Go on Scoring Rampage to Score 6 to 0 Victory Over Pittsburgh

Toronto, Jan. 6.—A pair of "runaway" victories and one closely-contested match marked the three games played in the International Hockey League yesterday evening. Two Canadian entries, London and Windsor, both strengthened their position in the league race by downing Syracuse and Pittsburgh, respectively, while Cleveland Indians broke out in a scoring spurge to hand Buffalo Bisons a 5 to 1 reverse in the Ohio City.

Absence of several regulars had little effect on Windsor's scoring efforts when they shut out the Jackets 6 to 0. The Londoners did not have matters so easy, however, as they were forced to finish strongly to edge out a 2 to 1 decision. The two victories hoisted the Forest City entry into second place tie with Detroit Olympia.

BISONS OUTPLAYED

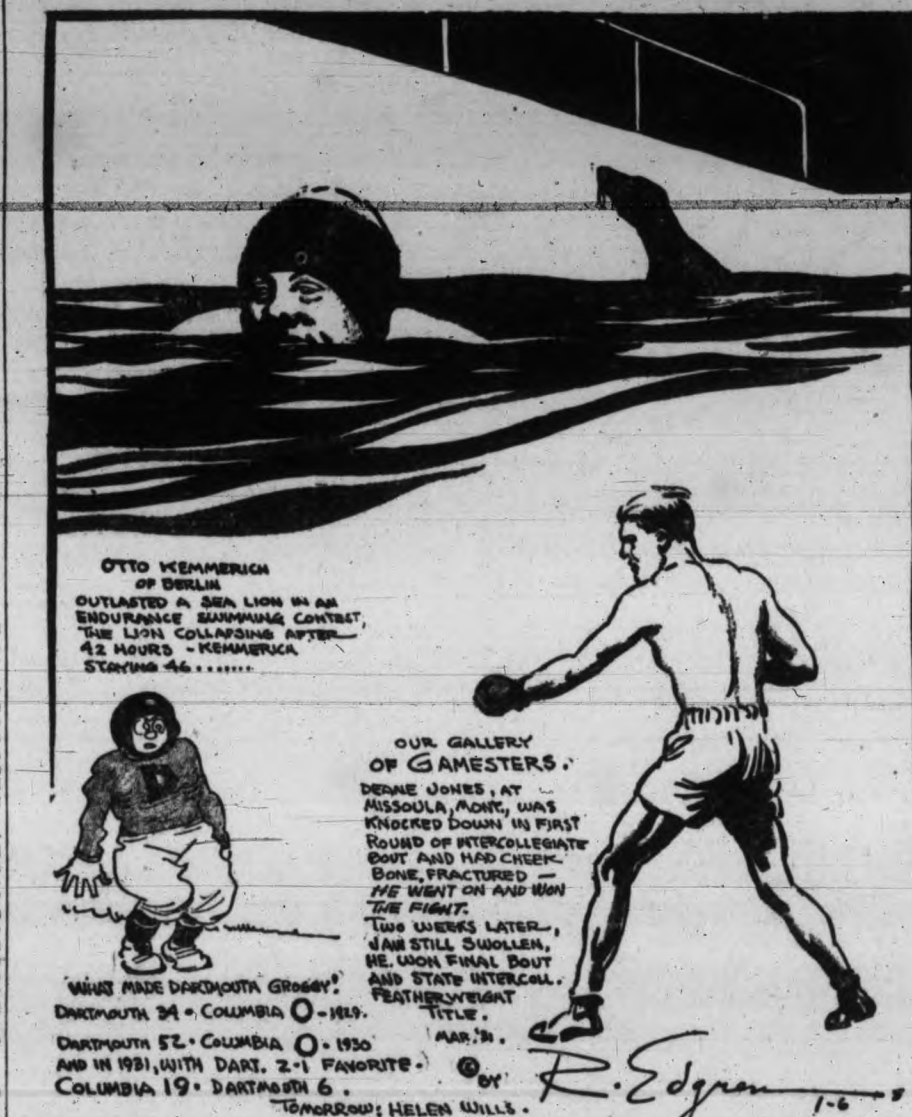

Cleveland thoroughly outplayed Frank Nighbor's pace-setting Bisons for three periods. Ronan Martin, midgoal winger, accounted for the only Buffalo tally early in the first period on a pass from Lloyd Gross, but the Indians came back strong and before the initial twenty minutes were concluded they earned a two-goal lead. "Mac" Macfarlane, sturdy defenceman, figured in both markers, notching the first and assisting Halliday in scoring the second, in the second period when Gray, Halliday and Doraty all beat Taucher.

Windsor put on a scoring bee at the expense of Pittsburgh, earning a three-goal lead in the opening frame on a brace of goals by Paul Haynes and a single tally by Stan Brown. They broke away for another trio of markers in the final stanza. Earl Roche accounted for the fourth and fifth, while Lorne Duguid notched the final tally.

RALLY TO WIN

A third-period scoring punch which netted two goals gave London their 3 to 2 victory over Syracuse Stars. Gaining a goal lead halfway through the opening frame when "Scotty" Martin converted a pass from Waite into a goal, the Stars continued their offensive plan in the second session, and "Pett" Savage made the count 2 to 1 before the period ended. Eric Larocque scored the first goal of the game when he drove Huard's rebound past Miller. The final chucker was only three minutes old when the same pair combined for a tying marker, with Huard netting the rubber, while the winning tally came from the stick of Gene Carrigan on a pass from Quenneville.

Miracles of Sport

Consider Further Exhibition Games With Canucks Here

Victoria, Vancouver and British Columbia rugby officials today were considering the possibility of having exhibition games with the All-Canadians on their return from the Japanese tour as the result of a suggestion given out by the leaders of the Canucks before they left for the Orient last Saturday. It was suggested that three games be played, one against Victoria here, another against Vancouver on the mainland and a third against the British Columbia "rep" squad, possibly here.

ROVERS SCORE DECISIVE WIN

Defeat Jones Brothers 9 to 5 in Second Half Roller Hockey Opener

Taking the lead in the second period when they broke through the Jones Brothers' defence to start piling up their margin, Rovers opened the second half of the local senior roller hockey league play with a 9-to-5 victory at the King Rink yesterday evening. Cross Jinks came through with a mild surprise when they handed the Rosebuds, favorites, a 3-to-2 defeat in the intermediate fixture.

Netting four of his squad's tallies, Johnny Carlow starred for the Rovers. Moore added two more goals and Tyson, Blackstock and B. Carlow accounted for one each.

Eddie de Blaquiere turned in a good defensive game for the winners, as did Parkinson in goal. West, Brown and Crump each sagged the Rosebuds' hem in the intermediate fixture to give the Cross Jinks their victory. D. Murray netted the Buds' pair.

Commercial Meet Multnomah Stars At High To-night

Great Basketball Game Expected When Classy Local Senior "A" Squad Goes up Against Portland Quintette; Oregon Club Defeated Duncan 47 to 24 Yesterday Evening; Locals Will Have Advantage in Height and Weight; Buyats Play C.P.S. in Preliminary.

Victoria hoop fans are in for a treat to-night when Ray Brooks and his Multnomah Club basketballers take on the fast traveling Commercial quintette at the Victoria High School gymnasium. The Portland squad are small, young and fast and, according to Brooks, are one of the finest teams he has ever brought to Victoria. The game will start at 8.45 o'clock with Le Marquand handling the whistle.

As a preliminary game the C.P.S. and Buyats will tangle in an important league fixture, with the Buyats needing a victory for first half honors. These teams will start play at 7.45 o'clock with Macedo refereeing.

Although yesterday evening's 47 to 24 victory over Duncan was not very impressive, Brooks' team is known to be very strong. On Monday evening they played the College of Puget Sound and after a great game won by a score of 27 to 21.

Keenan and Smith, two old campaigners on the island, and the only two first string men to make the trip, were not used yesterday evening to any great extent, but Brooks will put them in action to-night. The other members of the team are all second team players at the Multnomah Club in Portland, but are capable of holding their own in any kind of competition.

A FINE FORWARD Ray Dempsey, diminutive but tricky forward, is a dead shot, and his scoring record for the season is something to marvel at, as in most games he has reached the twenty-points mark. Yandle is another sharpshooter with a great record and must be watched.

The Commercial will have a great advantage in height and weight and many local followers contend that it will be too much for the visitors to overcome. Chuck Chapman will have all his regulars on hand with Art Chapman, Muzz Patrick, Harold Engelson, Joe Ross, Lloyd Jones, John Craig and Tommy Little in uniform.

Regardless of the outcome of to-night's game local fans will see some great basketball, and a large crowd is expected.

Tilden Victor Over A. Burke

Philadelphia, Jan. 6.—William T. Tilden yesterday defeated Albert Burke, professional tennis champion of France, 4-6, 6-1, 6-0, in an exhibition match at the Penn Athletic Club.

College Ruggers May Meet Varsity Team January 30

Plans Broached to Send Local Intermediate Champions to Vancouver for Annual Game Against U.B.C.; Have Good Chance Even if Sent Against University's Second Senior Squad; Game Aimed to Replace Invasion.

As far as Victoria College is concerned, the annual invasion between that institution and Varsity is dead. But the schools will retain their contacts on the rugby field, if plans now being worked out at the college are successfully concluded. The students' council has recommended to the faculty that the intermediate rugby team visit the Terminal City for a match at the end of the month. All that is now required is the official sanction of the principal, Prof. P. H. Elliott, before the students' complete their arrangements with the Vancouver boys.

It is understood the council will send the team to Vancouver for an inter-collegiate fixture on January 30.

Although nothing definite has been announced, it is anticipated the Collegians will tackle the University's second squad drafted from those players wearing Varsity uniforms in the Vancouver first division, but who did not secure places on the U.B.C. McKechnie Cup squad. Should the Vancouver students select their team from this senior company, the Victorians should face stronger opposition than they have ever battled in their lengthy series with Varsity.

GOING WELL NOW

The Collegians, after a slow start, during which they failed to impress even against the weakest teams in the local intermediate league, came through in a blaze of glory at the close of the first half to finish that part of their schedule without a defeat. They have a splendid three-quarter line that ranks among the best in the city, two of their men having gained places on the local rep squad. Final selection of the men who make the trip will be left in the hands of Gil McInoy, coach.

It is understood the team will include "Nelly" Nelson, fullback, "Chuck" Copeland, Bob Mabe, Archie Miller, Lynn Patrick and possibly Waldo Skilling on the three-quarter line with Ted Colgate, five-eighths and Les Robinson, half-back, completing the backfield.

PROBABLE FORWARDS

Among the forwards Bobby Carey, Koo Sangster, Bill Croftall, Joe Roberts, Upward and Fyke have good chances of making the trip, but they will have to work hard to make sure of their places.

Bobby Wilson, hard working scrum man who was injured late in the season, may also accompany the squad, but will be unable to get into the game.

In previous years the collegians have met the Victorians in the "agony" Varsity fixtures in Victoria, and have had about an even break in games in Vancouver.

This season the local students have shown a fine backfield style of play that should prove particularly effective against their mainland rivals. They will go over with chances about even, although they may have to meet a senior Varsity squad.

ANDERSON TO MEET KAPLAN ON MAT CARD

Swedish Heavyweight Will Tackle Rough New Yorker. Here on Saturday

Local Wrestlers Taking Part on All-local Card at Tillium Gym To-night

Abe Kaplan, rough and ready heavyweight grappler from New York, will go up against Axel Anderson, Swedish star, in the eight ten-minute-round main event of the card at the Tillium gym on Saturday evening. Anderson appeared here in the main event last week, scoring a fine victory over Casey O'Leary, Georgia.

Kaplan will be remembered as the chap who put Dr. Sarpolis, flying scissors expert, out of commission recently. He is a rough customer and should be able to give Anderson a tough match. The latter is a powerful man who specializes in the backward body slam, the throw with which he beat O'Leary here last Saturday.

LOCAL CARD TO-NIGHT

To-night at the Tillium gym an all-local wrestling card will be presented, with the first bout scheduled at 8.00 o'clock.

The complete card follows: Four three-minute rounds: J. McPherson vs. D. Lesak, sixty pounds.

T. Wormald vs. E. Tillyer, seventy-five pounds.

Wing Hope vs. Jung Hope, 118 pounds.

R. Matthews vs. W. Stirrup, 100 pounds.

Four four-minute rounds: R. Wheeler vs. G. Allen, 145 pounds.

Four five-minute rounds: Young Ernie Arthur vs. Young Des Anderson, sixty pounds.

Four five-minute rounds: P. Thomas vs. R. Hopkins, 135 pounds.

J. Masters vs. Pat Griffin, 140 pounds.

BOSTON SOX READY WITH A FAIR CLUB

Prospects Bright With Club Boasting Good Pitchers, Infield and Outfield

Red Sox Get Tough Break in Having to Go Up Against Strong Clubs First

Boston, Mass., Jan. 6.—If the Boston Red Sox could start the American league race against the western clubs instead of the slugging easterners, they would be a happy pair.

But the schedule, they expect, will again get their team off on the wrong foot, for the Sox have some twenty odd games with the slaughtering Philadelphia Athletics, New York Yankees and Washington Senators before getting up with any of their western rivals.

Prospects seem bright with one of the "best pitching" staffs in either league, a fair catching department, an infield with only one doubtful spot and a well rounded and veteran outfield.

Collins, whose watchword is "hustle," has moved the spring training camp from Pensacola to Savannah.

HAS SMALL SQUAD

Collins will start for Georgia next month with about thirty-two players, the smallest spring training squad in many years.

It is likely that last year's hurling corps will again carry the burden. The veterans include Willy Moore, Danny MacFadden, Horace Lisenbee, Ed Durham, Ed Morris and Jack Russell. Collins has high hopes that Young Bob Kline, a relief worker last year, will get going and that Old Pete Donahue, a great right hander with the Cincinnati Reds years ago, will be able to come back.

Bill Sweeney is booked for another whirl at first base, and Hal Rhyne, shortstop, is counted upon for another year. Marty McManus seems to fill the third base hole nicely, leaving only second base to worry about.

The infield is made up of Webb, Tom Oliver and Al Van Camp, a veteran trio.

Charlie Berry, who watches over the pitchers, is called upon to do most of the catching, with Eddie Connelly, Howard Store and "Red" Hargrave, formerly of Detroit, and late of Baltimore, battling for the relief job.

VARSIITY FIVE BRILLIANT TO CAPTURE GAME

U.B.C. Hoopsters Display Class in 55 to 27 Victory Over Moose Jaw Team

Moose Jaw, Sask., Jan. 6.—Flashing a brilliant attack, coupled with deadly shooting, B.C. Varsity eagles piled up 55 points against 27 by the Moose Jaw K.O.R.C. to win the charity basketball game at the Armories Tuesday night.

The Moose Jaw team was outclassed in just about the same ratio as the score, and while they made many mistakes, they showed flashes of high class basketball.

The Varsity crew gave a good display of why they are Dominion champions in the sport. Their team work was clean cut, passing accurate, shooting deadly and the players worked all the time in perfect harmony and with a perfect understanding of the other fellow's play. It was team work and smart ball handling which won the game for the B.C. aggregation.

New Play-off System For College Rugby

U.B.C. Gridders To Make Tour and Play Prairie Collegians

Coast Canadian Footballers Will Oppose Universities of Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Alberta the Second Week of October in Hardy Cup Competition; B.C. Must Win Two of Three Road Games to Qualify for Trophy; Playing Rules Discussed at Annual Meeting of Intercollegiate Union.

Saskatoon, Sask., Jan. 6.—Drafting a rugby schedule and arranging dates for the annual track and swimming meets were the highlights of the annual meeting of the Western Canada Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Union held here yesterday.

According to the new rugby schedule drafted, the University of British Columbia will make a tour of the three prairie colleges during the second week of October. They are slated to open the 1932 season at Saskatoon on October 8. On October 10, the B.C. squad will meet the Manitobans at Winnipeg, and on October 15, they will play the Albertans at Edmonton.

JOIE RAY NOW JUST A HOOVER ON DANCE FLOOR

One Time Greatest Miller in U.S. Earning Living as Marathon Performer.

Says His Medals Won't Feed Him: Coming to Canada For Snowshoe Race

Newark, N.J., Jan. 6.—The slinky legs that carried Joie Ray through three Olympic games as greatest miler of the United States are only the props of a long-distance hoover now as he shuffles through the weary miles of a dance marathon here.

The ears that once tingled with the praise of amateur sports lovers hear now only the blaring of a jazz orchestra. And the muscles of a gallery of marathon dance fans.

Joie Ray, now thirty-six years old, one-time national hero of the cinder track, is merely No. 43—for rather half of team No. 43—for trotting for pay in an exhibition of sleepless endurance.

"You can't keep the wolf from your door with medals," Joie said yesterday. "The butcher and baker won't take my trophies."

"I've tried almost everything in the athletic line—roller skating, racing against a horse, prize fighting, snowshoe racing and even selling sporting goods. And I've driven a taxi. But I need to eat now and that's why I'm doing this."

He appears in splendid condition, although he said doctors had told him his heart was not as good as it should be. He has gained weight. His legs are firm and he says he could go out and break 4:20 for the mile to-day.

At the end of this month, he said, he expects to go to Canada to compete in a snowshoe race at Quebec. The distance to be covered is 200 miles.

"I finished seventh last time and I figure my chances of winning this year are good," Joie said.

Edgren Resigns From California Athletic Board

Pacific Grove, Cal., Jan. 6.—With the declaration he "was not satisfied" with the way the State Athletic Commission has functioned, Robert Edgren, noted boxing critic and cartoonist, announced his resignation as a member yesterday. Edgren said he had forwarded his resignation to Governor James Rolph, by whom he was appointed one year ago. The veteran sport authority declined to amplify his statement. Dr. Harry Martin of Los Angeles and Chaplain L. C. Keeley of San Francisco are the other members of the board.

Friends of Edgren expressed the opinion that one of the reasons for his dissatisfaction was that a wrestling permit had been issued to a promoter in Southern California against his wishes.

Daviscourt Loses Match on a Foul

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 6.—Sándor Szabo, Hungarian, defeated Dick Daviscourt, California, in a wrestling match here yesterday evening. Daviscourt was disqualified for applying the strangle hold after 23 minutes and 4 seconds. Szabo weighed 205, Daviscourt 225. Tim Roebuck, 245, Haskell, threw Dick Stahl, 210, German, with a body slam in 15.01.

Ninety-two Year Old Skater Wants Some Competition!

Summerside, P.E.I., Jan. 6.—J. E. Arsenault of Wellington, P.E.I., is open to meet any skater in his age in Canada in a skating race, he stated yesterday evening, after giving a flashy exhibition on the blades between periods of the Amherst-Crystal Central Hockey League match.

Mr. Arsenault is ninety-two years old.

Melbourne, Australia, Jan. 6.—The South African team refused to wag to-day and Australia captured the third match and the rubber in the test cricket series between the two Dominions. New York, Jan. 6.—New York Rangers kept their long winning streak intact yesterday evening by defeating Montreal Maroons, 2 to 0, in a rough National Hockey League game. The victory gave Rangers a record of nine wins and two ties in their last eleven games.

The game was marked by rough play and a couple of close-up calls that threatened to develop into flat fights, but were stopped by quick action of referees and players. Eighteen penalties were called, and at one time, in the third period, three players from each team were in the "cooler" at once. Rangers scored their first goal at the close of the second period with a neat three-man combination play. Frank Boucher made the counter after the close of the Cook brothers had a hand in the passing. Young Cecil Dillon clinched the victory half-way through the third period when each team had one man off the ice. He caught the Maroon defence flat-footed on a fast so dash after he had been ragging the puck, and sent a shot past goalie Flat Walsh without slowing down. Walsh, recalled from the New Haven Eagles to replace the injured Normie Smith, turned in a great performance and prevented scores on at least half a dozen occasions when he seemed to have no chance.

DEMPSEY TO START WORK

Former Heavyweight Champ Getting Ready For Bigger Game; Tougher Opponents

Los Angeles, Jan. 6.—On the coast of the Pacific, back Dempsey, once the king of heavyweight boxing, was en route to-day to Reno, Nev., from where he will start within twenty-five days the second leg of his comeback campaign. Tougher opponents, smaller gloves and bigger towns are sought by Dempsey.

"I'm ready for some real fights now," he said. However, the boxer-admitted it would take about twenty-five days of intensive training at Reno to put him into shape for the coming tour. During the past several months Dempsey toured the smaller cities and towns of the country, meeting the lesser known men of the ring. "Jack's first show will be in some town outside Chicago," said Leonard Sacks, the boxer's manager, who left by train for the windy city yesterday evening to arrange for Dempsey's appearance there. Sacks added that Dempsey would seek an even split in the purse with Max Schmeling, the champion, in event a title bout is arranged.

Skating Trials To Determine Members Of Canadian Team

Toronto, Jan. 6.—Speed skating trials, the results of which will decide the membership of the Canadian team to compete at the Olympic winter games at Lake Placid, N.Y., will be held here January 18. A team of four men or, if finances permit, possibly six, and three women, is expected to be selected.

Frank Stack, Winnipeg, holder of the United States national title, will be one of the contenders for a place on the team. Stack has been barred from participation in the United States national meet to be held at Oconomowoc, Wis., on January 16 and 17, on account of the six months' residence clause.

An effort is being made to have Ross Robinson, Canadian and North American champion, reconsider his decision not to compete and have him enter the trials. The races are to be run at 500, 1,500, 5,000 and 10,000 metres.

San Francisco, Jan. 6.—Bob Kruse, Portland, grappler, won the main event of the wrestling programme from Axel Anderson, Sweden, here yesterday evening, despite the fact that he mistook the referee for his opponent on two occasions and wrestled with him. Kruse won the first fall of the rough match in 16 minutes with a double wristlock and Anderson evaded the match, taking the second in 11 minutes with a headlock. Kruse required but two minutes to pin Anderson's shoulders to the canvas with a body slam.

Wheat Advances On Outside Strength And Better Exports

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Jan. 6.—Inspired by firmer wheat quotations at Liverpool and fair export trade, wheat prices again took the ascendancy for the second successive day in the wheat market here to-day. Prices at the close revealed gains of 1 1/2 to one cent above yesterday's closing level. The May option was higher at 63 1/2, while July advanced an even cent to 64 1/2.

Reports from seaboard, both east and west, indicated a fair volume of trade worked. New York also reported heavy sales to China. Broomhairs reported an improvement in the demand for wheat in Great Britain as well as in parts of the continent. There was no pressure of wheat in the local pit, and this proved to be a helpful factor in sustaining the advance. Trade was more active and sentiment was more optimistic than has been since the holidays.

Cash wheat and coarse grains moved higher in sympathy with wheat.

To-day's Grain Markets

WINNIPEG

(By Logan & Bryan)
Winnipeg, Jan. 6.—Wheat: With cables somewhat firmer than day, European markets showing a stronger tendency combined with a little better export business and a strong market, the local wheat market was a better account of itself to-day. Prices being higher throughout and on the extreme bulge were about 1 1/2 cents over previous close.

There was only a moderate export business worked over night, sales being estimated at around 300,000 bushels, but further business was reported to-day from Vancouver, and total sales during the past twenty-four hours were estimated at around 1,000,000 bushels. However, there was very little of this business reflected in the market, but sentiment was friendly, and locals were on the buying side and with very light offerings. The market advanced and was able to hold nearly all of the upturn.

Offering were again extremely light, and all spreads were urged on the straight grades, although on the Durums spreads advanced about 2 cents, which means little, as there was nothing for sale. There was no change in flour situation, which continues very quiet. It was reported that China had purchased 2,000,000 bushels of Manitoba wheat, but this business could not be confirmed in any direction. However, there are some good inquiries in the market, and reports in that there is a good underlying demand from abroad.

Bradstreet's weekly North American exports were placed at 6,352,000 bushels. Country markets in wheat were confirmed, with a decline of 1 cent, against 314,000 a year ago.

Winnipeg closed 1 1/2 up.

Coarse grains—These markets were again somewhat weaker than day, wheat offerings continued extremely light, but there was very little actual business passing and no export sales were confirmed. Practically nothing is being hedged.

Oats closed 1/2 up, barley 1/2 up and rye 1 1/2 up.

Flax—This market was also strong, closing 2 1/2 higher. However, the demand was very ordinary and nothing of feature was going on.

Liverpool due 1/4 higher on Winnipeg.

CHICAGO
(By Logan & Bryan)
Chicago, Jan. 6.—Wheat: A much better tone developed in wheat although the buying lagged on the advances. However, there was no great pressure at any time and with the improvement in the stock list, more favorable reports re financial conditions abroad and small receipts there was much disposition to press the selling side.

Export of Canadian wheat to China was said to be upwards of 3,000,000 bushels the past few days. China was said to be buying Australian wheat. Paris closed strong with a sharp advance in German bonds on rumors of satisfactory arrangements between France and England in regard to reparations.

Berlin wheat has advanced five cents in week with Rotterdam 2 1/2 to 3 cents. Export sales of domestic wheat were still light. Clearances from 4,000,000 primary arrivals, small, 212,000 versus 978,000 a year ago. Northwest points had only thirty cars against 288 a year ago.

Flour trade slow. Weather favorable in regard to precipitation, with the possibility of more active foreign buying a conservative position on the constructive looks advisable.

Corn: Made a fair advance but rather free selling on upturns with holders of offers selling freely at times. Cash demand fair, local sales 32,000, re-exports eighty-three cars. Primary arrivals 353,000 versus 535,000 a year ago. Corn holdings were larger at 56,000.

Weather still mild for season with rain or snow. Cash basis unchanged to 1/4 higher. Position of corn is two-sided, slow cash demand on hand and high prices in the west.

Oats: Trade was modest and slightly stronger tendency. Cash sales 40,000, primary arrivals 143,000 versus 124,000.

Rye: Was in better demand and strong indications of some export business in Canadian rye. Market responds quickly to strength in wheat.

LONDON MARKET
London, Jan. 6.—Trading on the Stock Exchange to-day was quite cheerful. Reinforcement of dividends and cheap money were responsible for further improvement in the market. The annual return of the "big five" banks was considered a satisfactory financial circles and helped the advance in bank shares. German bonds were the strong feature in the foreign group, but several securities finished fractionally under the best.

STOCK EXCHANGE BORROWINGS

MAY GAINS AT MONTREAL

Canadian Press
Montreal, Jan. 6.—Security prices on the Montreal Stock Exchange turned into higher territory to-day for the first time since the New Year made its inauspicious entry.

While gains were spread over a relatively narrow list, they were general for stocks that made an appearance. Sales were not heavy.

Canada Cement, International Nickel, Canadian Pacific, Canadian National, Canadian Sugar, and a few others were among the more outstanding members of the list in to-day's trading. Canadian Pacific closed at 14 1/2, up 1/2. Lindsay preferred made one of its occasional appearances late in the session at 60, down seven points.

The main strength for to-day's advance was infused through inter-related stocks. At the close traders were bidding 1 1/2 for Brazilian while the closing sale was at 12, a net gain of one point. Nickel held a gain of 1/4 at 9 1/2.

Consolidated Smelters reached 69, up 2 1/2.

TORONTO MINES
Toronto, Jan. 6.—Standard Stock and Mining Exchange market showed a little more buoyancy than yesterday's session despite continuance of the low trading rate. Changes on end showed a majority of gains.

Elaborado was active, adding another 9 cents to recent gains. Nipissing, however, slipped 5 to 81.00. Interrelated base metals were strong, Nickel showing a gain of 1 cent and Noranda closing up 3/8 on the day.

Higher-priced golds were in better demand, with Dome and McIntyre prices 2 1/2 higher, and Wright Hargreaves, Hollinger and Teck Hughes up 5 to 15 cents apiece. Among cheaper issues Ventures firmed a couple and Moss, Sylvanite and Siscoe sold up a cent.

To-day's Exchange In Canadian Money
New York, Jan. 6.—Foreign exchange rates for to-day indicated some reviving interest in the recently somewhat loose market.

United States Government issues, however, continued heavy. Treasury 3 1/2 reached a new low for the movement and Liberties were down in some instances, nearly a point.

German Government bonds led the foreign list. Dealers attributed the recent strength in German obligations to a growing belief satisfactory settlement of the Reich debt situation can be expected soon.

GOVERNMENT EXTRAVAGANCES CRIPPLE BUSINESS, PROLONG DEPRESSION, BIG BANK WARNS

Deficits Cannot be Indefinitely Financed by Loans, Says Guaranty Trust, Emphasizing Urgency for Balancing Budgets; Injury to Public Credit and Grave Losses in Value of Securities Follow Reckless Borrowing.

New York, Jan. 6.—Stabilization of Europe, balancing of governments' budgets and restoration of confidence are the outstanding problems of the new year, says the current issue of the Guaranty Trust, published by the Guaranty Trust Company of New York.

In addition, it is added, international debts, high tariffs, inflation and political uncertainties are deterrents to economic progress that must be reckoned with, and the process of re-adjustment to new standards of value must go on. It may be, the bank says, that the worst of the crisis has been passed, both here and abroad, but only the developments of 1932 can reveal that.

"Two obvious facts, however, face us as necessary precursors of financial stability here," the bank continues. "First, a policy of rigid economy in governmental expenditure must be enforced to balance budgets. Second, there is a limit to the borrowing capacity of governments, and the mind must be turned back upon the assurance that sound methods will eventually produce good results and that the course of events is always upward in the long run. There is a ground for present optimism. Hard work, economy and balanced production and budgets will be important factors in any recovery, and, if their lessons are learned, may be more rapidly than is now anticipated."

Bond Market Rallies With Heavy Trading In Foreign Obligations
New York, Jan. 6.—Rallies in various domestic corporation bonds and heavy trading in foreign obligations to-day indicated some reviving interest in the recently somewhat loose market.

United States Government issues, however, continued heavy. Treasury 3 1/2 reached a new low for the movement and Liberties were down in some instances, nearly a point.

German Government bonds led the foreign list. Dealers attributed the recent strength in German obligations to a growing belief satisfactory settlement of the Reich debt situation can be expected soon.

The Bride Who Admitted That She Was Marrying To Get a Boss Expressed the Hidden Desire of All Her Sex—For It Is Instinctive in Women to Want To Look Up to Their Mates and Depend on Them

A PROMINENT actress, who got married the other day, gave as her reason for marrying that she wanted a boss. She said that she was tired of trying to make up her mind about what to do about things and she yearned for some one who would make all of her decisions for her and tell her what to do.

Well, she is one bride, anyway, who is acquiring a husband who will come up to her ideal, for every man starts out in marriage with a well-developed head-of-the-house complex, and any wife who longs to be told just where she gets on and where she gets off is dead sure of getting her heart's desire.

In this day of free women, and particularly of emancipated wives, it is startling to hear a woman boldly proclaiming that she desires a husband to boss her, but, as a matter of fact, most women, if they told the truth, in their secret souls have the same longing.

It is a suppressed desire that they are ashamed to admit to, but if every woman got her preference in a husband he would be a strong, wise man, an oracle who would do all of her thinking for her and whose pronouncements she would never think of questioning.

For there is still a primitive strain in women that in moments of stress makes them revert to type and stand just where their cave great-grandmothers stood. Every woman, for instance, would like to be courted with a club and dragged off to his cave by the hair of her head by some big brute who never even asked her whether she thought he could make her happy or not.

Even with the sophisticated, modern women the timid wooer makes no hit with his delicate pleas and passionate arguments that leave the girl trembling between "I will" and "I won't." It is the determined man, who knows his own mind and makes up the girl's for her, who gets her.

Somehow it is instinctive in women to want to look up to their mates and depend upon them. Somehow it is necessary for a woman to do this in order to love a man. In a recent survey that has been made of husbands and wives it was found that in those cases in which the husband was superior to the wife she was happy and satisfied, but where the woman was the superior she was invariably restless, discontented and peevish, and that the marriage was unsuccessful.

Another illustration of this desire of women to magnify and glorify their husbands is to be found in the way in which women regard the achievements of their husbands. Nothing makes a woman so happy or fills her so full of pride as for her husband to do something fine and great and spectacular. Ninety-nine out of a hundred famous women would far rather be a famous man's wife than be famous themselves, and the fly in their ointment is that they cannot transfer their laurel wreaths to their husbands' brows, and so really enjoy them.

The marriages of most women who are successful outside of the home are failures in the home, and this is largely because the husband and wife are forced into a relationship in which the wife looks down on the husband and the husband is forced to look up to his wife and neither can bear it.

Of course, there are plenty of cases in which women do marry meek men, men who are their inferiors in every way, and whom they go on loving and pitying and mothering to the end of the chapter, but this is merely because these men appeal to the maternal instinct in their wives and the love that their wives give them is the sort of feeling that they would extend to a defective child. It has none of the elements of the real love of a woman for her mate.

And, of course, there are dominant women who love to rule, and who establish a tyranny over their households that brooks no interference from a mere husband. These are the women who always say "I" when speaking of their possessions or their activities. "I am going to do so-and-so to the house." "I am going to buy a new car." "I am going to send John to college," and so on, and on.

They buy their husbands' clothes without reference to his taste. They give him one hook of a closet in the house he supports. They let him play golf or make him go to church. They permit him to go to see his mother, or refuse to let her pay him a visit. They do not give their husbands as much liberty as a dog on a leash.

Unfortunately, there are many of these she-who-must-be-obeyed wives, but I have never seen one of them happy, no matter how much she got her own way. I have never seen the woman who loved the man she could henpeck. Always and invariably she has a contempt for him.

For women want to be bossed. They want to be ruled by husbands whose intelligence they respect and by whose opinions they are willing to be guided, and when you hear a wife begin every sentence with "John says," as if that settled the matter, you do not have to ask if she is happily married and satisfied with her husband. You know.

The Coal We Burn

People of the world burn, on the average, more than 3,000,000 tons of coal each day. This coal warms our homes and schools and offices. It supplies heat to produce steam used for running steamships and railway trains.

Trees like those which turned to coal

Scientists tell us that the story of coal goes back millions of years, to a time when trees and plants were very different from what they are now. Traces of these trees and plants have been found in coal beds, and imprints of the leaves have been studied with the help of microscopes. Partly from that study, we have gained an idea as to how coal came to be. Trees growing in and around swamps shed their leaves each year. Some of the leaves fell in moist places and sank to the bottom of the water. Small plants lived and died in the swamps. Moss grew about the rocks and added to the dead vegetable matter. Twigs and branches fell at the same places. Now and then a whole tree toppled over. If people had been living at that time, they might have paid no attention to what was going on in the wet places. In the lifetime of any one person the process could make little difference; but as the centuries rolled by, great changes took place. The swamps dried away. The plant matter was pressed down. Dust fell on it. Grass grew above it. In time peat was formed. Later the peat turned into soft coal, and still later some of it became hard coal. During my visit to Ireland in 1930 I saw fields covered with small blocks of peat which had been dug up and left in the sun to dry. After being dried, peat serves as fuel—not such good fuel as coal, but good enough for use where it may be obtained cheaply. If the peat were left underground long enough, it would turn into coal. The United States and Great Britain produce more than half of the world's coal; but stores of coal exist in almost every section of the earth. Rich coal fields have been found in Nova Scotia and Alberta, and on Vancouver Island. (You may place this story in "Nature" section of your scrapbook.) To-morrow—Match Heads and Match Sticks.
